Ike Doesn't Approve of Probers Serving Truman With Subpena

CALIFORNIA WINNER. Republican candidate Gleniard Lipscomb, the winner (at right) of a friend about the special election in California's 21th Congressional district—an election being closely watched in the aftermath of Democratic victories in New Jersey and Wisconsin. The election was to choose a replacement for Republican Norris Poulson who stepped aside when he was elected mayor of Los Angeles. Lipscomb was the regular party candidate.

Bolsters Majority

Republican Victor In California Race

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Republican Gleniard P Lipscomb was credited the blessing of his party in a four way special election which attracted national attention as the 21st District's congressional vacancy.

His victory conceded by Democrat George Arnold bolsters the Republican majority in the House where the GOP now holds 219 seats and the Democrats 213. An independent fills the remaining seat.

Backed by Party

Arnold had his party's endorsement but also in the race were another Democrat Irving Malkenhorn and another Republican John L Collier.

Complete but unofficial returns from the district's 21 precincts yesterday's special election gave Lipscomb 42,850 votes to 34,158 for Arnold. Collier trailed Malkenhorn 3,158.

In Washington the Republican National Committee issued a statement which said:

The results in California are most heartening. When you consider that two Republicans were running against a divided Democratic party the results are even more remarkable.

The outcome is an endorsement of the Eisenhower administration and a good omen for 1954.

The special election offered to seat to the candidate who polled the most votes even though he failed to receive a majority of the votes cast.

Lipscomb termed his triumph a vote of confidence in the Eisenhower administration and an endorsement of the record of the 83rd Congress. It proved he said that the people are desirous of continuing the administration's accomplishments of the past 10 months.

A hold conceded shortly before 11 p m when returns were in from more than 200 precincts.

I should like to congratulate Mr Lipscomb first as the candidate and winner, and second to pay my personal respects to him as an individual, Arnold said.

Clean Campaign

The campaign was hard fought, clean and fair. As Democrats we men all did our best to keep looking for a fight over the principles in which we believe.

Lipscomb 38 is a public accountant now serving his third term as state Assemblyman. He was execu

Never Would Have Done It, He Declares

Wouldn't Have Served Justice Clark Either, He Informs Newsmen

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower declared today he personally never would have subpoenaed former President Truman in the Harry Dexter White case. He declared too it is inconceivable to him that Truman knowingly would do anything to damage the United States.

At a news conference which dealt almost entirely with the politically explosive case Eisenhower said he was voicing his own opinion in declaring he is opposed to subpoenaing Truman.

To Appear Friday

The House Un-American Activities Committee has subpoenaed the former President for Friday to tell what he knows about Atty Gen Brownell's charges that Truman promoted White in 1946 after FBI reports labeling White as a Russian spy had been delivered to the White House.

In reply to another question Eisenhower said again expressing his personal opinion that he probably would not have subpoenaed Supreme Court Justice Tom C Clark who was Truman's attorney general at the time of the White incident.

Clark's name came into the Brownell-White controversy when Brownell said copies of the FBI reports were turned over to a number of high officials in the Truman administration.

Foe of Truman

Among those Brownell said received copies were Clark and the then Secretary of State James F Byrnes.

Byrnes, now governor of South Carolina and in late years a political foe of Truman, has been called to testify before the House committee along with Clark.

Brownell first leveled his charges in a speech in Chicago last Friday.

At that time White House Press Secretary James C Hagerty told reporters Eisenhower had advance knowledge that Brownell was going to make the speech that Brownell had conferred with Eisenhower the previous Monday.

Eisenhower related to his news conference today that Brownell called on him a week ago last Monday said he had evidence of subversive activity and added that high government officials under the Truman administration were aware of this activity.

Given White's Name

The President said Brownell gave him the name of White and told him White's record had been called to the attention of the White House.

Eisenhower said Brownell did not say Truman personally had knowledge of the FBI reports on White when Truman promoted White from assistant secretary of the Treasury to U S director of the International Monetary Fund.

Eisenhower said he told the attorney general that in making public the disclosures he would have to follow his own conscience and decide what his duty was.

A reporter asked whether Eisenhower felt Truman would knowingly appoint a Communist spy to office.

Eisenhower said he did not—that such a thing was inconceivable to him.

Eisenhower said it is up to Brownell to continue making a clean-up as the President put it, in his own way. Eisenhower said

Marion Girl Dies After Auto Mishap

WORKERS PREPARE to tow away the car in which Joyceann Marie Stoner 16, of 368 Girard Ave suffered fatal injuries Tuesday at 12 45 p m The accident happened just west of Green Camp on State Route 739 as four Harding High School senior girls were returning to Marion from Richwood

Car Crashes In Field Near Green Camp

Joyceann Stoner, 16, Killed, Three Other Harding Seniors Hurt

Joyceann Marie Stoner 16, daughter of Mr and Mrs Ralph Stoner of 368 Girard Ave, died this morning in City Hospital from injuries suffered in an automobile accident Tuesday at 12 45 p m just west of Green Camp on State Route 739.

She was fatally injured when a car in which she was riding failed to negotiate a slight curve in the road. The car was driven by JoAnne Gallina 17 daughter of Mr and Mrs Carl Gallina of 901 York St and carried two other Harding High School seniors.

Driver's Leg Broken

Miss Stoner is the 21st traffic victim in Marion County this year. Miss Gallina is in City Hospital with a fractured left leg and body bruises. Her condition was reported as "good" this morning.

The other two girls in the car were taken to City Hospital where they were treated and released. They are Esther Newell 17, daughter of Mr and Mrs Ernest W Newell of 843 Uncipher Ave and Marie Glenn, daughter of Mr and Mrs Harold E. Glenn of 375 Clinton St.

The girls were returning to Marion from Richwood. School authorities said this morning they had left the Business-Industry-Education Day tour for seniors of Harding and St. Mary schools after the last trip of the morning at Huber Manufacturing Co.

Skipped Lunch at YMCA

The girls were supposed to have gone to the YMCA for lunch sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce but instead went to Richwood. During the tours of the plant, the groups were regularly supervised by members of the Chamber of Commerce and one of the members of the faculty.

However, school authorities said, when they reached the YMCA the groups split up to find parking places and the girls left the area of the building at that time.

Highway patrol reports show the car left the highway just three-tenths of a mile west of Green Camp as the girls were returning to Marion to rejoin the tour.

Rolled Over 3 Times

The vehicle skidded along a bank on the side of the road, rolled over three or four times tearing down about 140 feet of fencing 11 fence posts, and a telephone pole. It finally stopped in a field on the north side of the highway.

Ambulances from the Boyd and J A Axe and Son funeral homes took the girls to the hospital. At about 10 to p m the fire department was called to bring an iron lung for the Stoner girl. Firemen worked for about three hours trying to keep her alive but their efforts were in vain.

Cause of death was reported as a cerebral injury. The attending physician said she also had suffered a compound fracture of the right leg.

2 Treated and Released

Esther Newell suffered multiple cuts and lacerations of the left leg and body, and Marie Glenn suffered fractured ribs. Both girls were released from the hospital after treatment Tuesday.

JoAnne Gallina, driver of the car, was charged with unsafe operation in an affidavit filed by the state highway patrol with the prosecuting attorney Tuesday afternoon.

The fencing and posts which were destroyed by the car belonged to Coe Leach of Route 2, Marion.

The automobile was completely demolished and towed back to Marion.

Joyceann Marie Stoner was born March 21 1937, in Marion to Ralph and Mildred Tweddle Stoner, the father a native of Delaware County and the mother of Marion. She

New Welfare Department Head Named

Henry J. Robinson Succeeds Lamneck; Takes Over on Nov. 17

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Henry J Robinson who began his career as a public school teacher is Ohio's new welfare director.

The 59 year old son of a former mayor of Ravenna was named yesterday by Gov Frank J. Lausche to succeed John H Lamneck.

Lausche appointed Lamneck to fill an Ohio Supreme Court vacancy. Last Friday Robinson had been Lamneck's assistant since Jan 15, 1949. He will take charge of the welfare department Nov 17.

When notified of his appointment Robinson told reporters he will do all I can within available funds to insure a sound and progressive program of welfare services.

Robinson—an amiable man of medium build whose brown hair recedes above his glasses—is a graduate of Kent State University.

One of his first jobs after college was as teacher in the Portage County public school system. He didn't teach for long. He became chief deputy clerk of Portage County Probate Court March 1, 1919, and was appointed probate judge four years and one month later.

After being re-elected probate judge for three more terms, Robinson resigned May 1 1936 to become chief of the welfare department's social administration division.

Robinson was a member of the Ohio Commission for the Blind from 1934 to 1948.

He and his wife the former Vernon A White of Cleveland have a daughter Mrs John Lautzenheiser of Columbus.

Yugoslavians Take Stand in Trieste Dispute

Call for Compromise Solution; Tito Aides Sound Optimistic Note

BELGRADE Yugoslavia (AP) — Yugoslav leaders have called for a compromise solution to the bitter quarrel over Trieste accusing Italy of attempting to use the issue to force a breach between Yugoslavia and the West.

The government's position was outlined last night by two of President Tito's top aides Vice President Edvard Kardelj and Vice President Moshe Pijade in electioneering speeches at Ljubljana and Belgrade.

Kardelj the administration's foreign policy maker, took a more optimistic line than some other members of the government have done since the British American Oct 8 announcement of their decision to turn Zone A of the Trieste free territory over to Italy.

Let us sit down at the green table and let us look for a compromise, Kardelj said.

Rites at Arlington Mark Armistice Day in Capital

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States keeping an uncertain truce in Korea, remembers today another armistice 35 years ago.

President Eisenhower arranged to go to the tomb of the Unknown Soldier of World War I there to place a memorial wreath at the base of the white marble block on a hilltop in Arlington National Cemetery.

The Chief Executive himself a soldier by profession thus planned to symbolize the nation's tribute to the dead of that earlier war. He arranged no address leaving that for Secretary of the Army Robert T Stevens.

Overtoning the addresses of national leaders who spoke through out the country was the theme of a quest for enduring peace which World Wars I and II failed to win.

Arthur J Connell of Middletown Conn national commander of the American Legion in remarks prepared for the ceremony at Arlington said the Korean armistice has yielded no firm promise of peace and he added:

'There are some who say that

Big 3 Meeting Seen Prodding NATO Defense

Preparation Against Soviet Threat Said Lagging in Europe

WASHINGTON (AP) — U S officials are pinning their hopes for the Big Three conference at Bermuda next month on the belief Russian Premier Georgi Malenkov will do a lot to ease the Soviet threat.

Diplomatic authorities here say British Prime Minister Churchill may press upon President Eisenhower and French Premier Laniel his interest in meeting with Russian Premier Malenkov.

But there is no expectation that Eisenhower will change his recently expressed view that the Big Four session under present conditions would be perfectly hopeless.

The key to the American approach to the Bermuda conference opening about Dec 4 lies in the toughness it is regarded here of the Soviet note of Nov 3 rebuffing a proposal for foreign ministers meeting on Germany. The note in effect told the Western Powers negotiations were impossi-

Salvation Army Building Scene Of $300 Blaze

A fire at the Salvation Army headquarters at 141 N Prospect St which caused some $300 damage was one of three fire calls answered by Marion firemen yesterday.

Fire Chief Owen A Sifritt said the cause of the fire at the Salvation Army was not determined. It started in some used clothing piled on a table in the basement of the building.

From this point it burned up along the wall and through the first floor filling the building with smoke.

Firemen from the Central stations answered the call and had the fire out in about 15 minutes, but remained on the scene for 50 minutes in 'mopping up' operations. No injuries were reported but firemen found it necessary to move the invalid mother of Captain Mary Nisiewicz out of the building.

At 2 07 p m yesterday firemen from the Central and W Center St. stations were called to an automobile fire in front of 171 W Center

Santa Claus Paying Income Tax Now

NEW YORK (AP) — Santa Claus always was a kindly old fellow, but a mighty poor businessman.

"Chairty begins at home," his wife kept telling him. But every year Santa came home each Christmas dawn, broke but happy from the world's oldest giveaway program. He never made a cent through the centuries.

Well, they've finally got the mellow old spendthrift organized on a sensible basis that proves philanthropy doesn't have to be a red-ink venture. Santa Claus is now on a payroll and pays income taxes to Uncle Sam. And so do all his merry little elves.

The financial transformation of Santa began in the gnomish mind of Harold Fortune, an ex-horse show entrepreneur who had turned into a country club rescuer. A country club rescuer is a man who, for a fee, saves insolvent golf pastures from going back to the bankers and the chipmunks.

Fortune had a friend, Julian Reiss, a wealthy Lake Placid, N Y., auto dealer, who liked to tell Christmas stories to his daughter, Patricia. In 1948 Reiss mentioned to Fortune a wistful remark by little Patricia:

"Gee, I wish sometume I could see Santa's workshop."

Bang, bang, bang! Bells rang in Fortune's promotor head. He forgot all about rescuing country clubs. Who wouldn't want to see Santa's workshop? He and Reiss began planning.

Several months and perhaps $500,000 later, they opened on July 1, 1949, a 15-acre Christmas village at North Pole, their own community on Whiteface Mountain in the Adirondacks.

"We have 10 log buildings done in fairyland style," said Fortune, "Santa's elves dressed in costume make toys, and operate a pottery shop. Two hundred animals—reindeer, peacocks, goats, ducks, and rabbits—wander through the village. There are a number of nursery rhyme characters, including Bo-peep, who is followed by her sheep."

Children under 10 are admitted free, adults pay a dollar each. The fairland village has had 2,234,826 visitors in four years, thousands of whom toss coins in a wishing well to buy Christmas toys.

The corporation that operates Santa's workshop chips in a share of receipts for this purpose, too. By Christmas this year it will have distributed since the opening date some 67,710 toys costing $143,075.

The Esso Standard Oil Co. supplies an airplane for Santa's journey. This year his safari includes stopovers at 34 airports, where groups of orphan and other underprivileged children will be given candy and Christmas presents.

Is the whole project philanthropy or just another Christmas business? Both, said Fortune.

"We are a commercial venture," he said, "and we pay an income tax. But we do a lot of good that otherwise wouldn't get done, and I don't mind telling you I feel good on Christmas morning."

Fortune, who devotes a third of the year to organizing the toy distribution program, would like to find a way to do more for orphans than give them a Christmas handout.

"You know, at a certain age they have to push them out in the world to make room in the orphanages for the younger ones," he said, "and often they aren't ready.

"I'd like to establish a craft school of some kind at Santa's workshop to teach these kids a way to make a living. If I could do that, I wouldn't mind if I died the next day."

He paused, and smiled.

What am I saying? But that's my goal."

35-Year Marital Mixup of Milford Couple Set Straight

CINCINNATI (AP) — The marital complications of Alvin C. Savige and his wife, which started during World War I because of some false impressions, have been finally solved by divorce.

Savige, 61, of nearby Milford, told a Common Pleas Court yesterday his wife Ida Pearl 55, of Dayton, Ohio, left him when he was in the Army in 1918. After he returned from overseas he was unable to locate her, he testified.

Believing he had divorced her, he said, she married Albert Williams in 1924. They had six children. Under the impression she had divorced him, he married Marie Ward in 1936.

Later they discovered neither had obtained a divorce, he told Judge John M. Renner. The judge granted Savige a divorce on grounds of wilful absence.

RECOUNT SET AT NEWARK

NEWARK, Ohio (AP)—The Licking County Election Board is going to recount the ballots which last week elected Kenneth M. Jones, a Democrat, mayor of Newark by one vote over his former high school teacher, John W. Swank, the Republican incumbent. Swank asked the recount after a count showed Jones with 4,401 votes and Swank with 4,400. The original unofficial count produced a tie. Swank became mayor last year by defeating Jones.

Insurance Swindler Pays With Bad Check

OGDEN, Utah (UP) — An alert housewife found she was being defrauded by an alleged insurance salesman, but the man smoothly worked his way out with another swindle.

When the salesman called, Mrs. Norman Olsen bought a policy and gave the man $7 for the initial payment. Later Mrs. Olsen became suspicious because the man had told her further payments would be made at a local bank. She called the bank and confirmed her suspicion.

Next day the sale man called again, trying to sell "insurance" for the rest of her family. Mrs. Olsen angrily demanded her money back. The salesman was indignant at having his "honor questioned" and wrote a check for $7 on an Idaho bank.

The check came back several days later marked "insufficient funds."

First Aired Spy Charges

Nixon Paved Way Three Years Ago for Brownell

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Nixon blazed the way for the Eisenhower administration's charge that the Truman administration failed to defend the government from Communist infiltration.

Atty. Gen. Brownell with President Eisenhower's approval made the charge. Former President Truman denied it. Eisenhower's press secretary, James C. Hagerty said Brownell only recently learned the 'facts' and got Eisenhower's blessing a week ago Monday.

Exactly when Brownell learned of it was not explained. And whether Brownell talked over the case with Nixon before he left for a Far Eastern tour weeks ago is not known.

But Brownell's main point—that the Democrats were very lax about rooting Communists out of the government—was made in more detail by Nixon, a House member, in a speech in January 1950.

So far Brownell has concentrated on just one of all the people named as Communist spies in the government by ex-Communists testifying before congressional committees.

That is Harry Dexter White, dead since 1948. Brownell said White was promoted by former President Truman after the FBI sent to the White House two reports saying White was a spy for Russia.

And Brownell, except for hints about previous FBI warnings to the White House in Franklin D. Roosevelt's years there, has chosen to aim it Truman, starting in December 1945.

Although Brownell now has access to FBI records and Department of Justice files which would enable him to name others besides White and give far more details, he has added little to charges he first made in Chicago last Friday. He announced Monday that the FBI reports went not only to the White House but to some Truman Cabinet members.

He says however that further cases will be disclosed.

Brownell now has a choice: he can add to his original charge with new charges and new names, or he can let congressional committees headed by Republicans pick up the ball from here and run with it.

If he follows the general line which Nixon expressed in his 1950 speech he will enlarge his accusations of Democratic softness toward domestic Communists by blaming the Roosevelt administration too.

It was Nixon who in that House speech first made publicly known that the FBI had sent a report to the White House and other government officials on Soviet espionage in the government in December 1945.

Last July 30 the Senate subcommittee on internal security headed by Sen. Jenner (R-Ind.) referred to this Nixon speech and revealed more of this same FBI report than Nixon did.

Nixon in 1950 and the subcommittee 3½ years later named White and others as being labeled spies for Russia.

The only new information supplied by Brownell was that the FBI had followed up the December 1945 report with a second in February 1946.

Nixon, who made a name for himself as the man who relentlessly pursued Alger Hiss—high State Department employe convicted of perjury after ex-Communist Whittaker Chambers called him a Communist spy—went back to 1939 to start his charges of negligence against the Democrats.

Nixon declared Chambers told his story about Communists in government that year and that nothing was done by the Roosevelt administration. Nixon continued:

"As far as the individuals named by Chambers were concerned the only thing that was done to them was to promote each one of them eventually to higher positions of power and influence within the government."

Brownell used almost the same words last Friday in talking about Truman and White.

NEW ENVOY. Dempster McIntosh of Philadelphia, a foreign trade expert, has been given "recess appointment" by President Eisenhower to be ambassador to Uruguay.

Army Denies Newsmen's Charges

Dispute Flares Over Military Censorship in Korea

TOKYO (AP) — Military officials and news correspondents were embroiled today in a dispute over censorship in Korea—even as the Army denied that censorship has been exercised over anything but information affecting military security.

Relations between the military and the press in Korea have reached a point of open hostility.

And there has been no improvement despite Defense Secretary Wilson's statement in Washington yesterday that misunderstandings that seem to have existed have been or shortly will be cleared up.

Wilson spoke at a National Press Club meeting shortly before the Army released in Washington—but not in Korea or Tokyo—a Far East Command report denying that dual censorship exists in Korea or that censorship has been used for reasons other than military security.

The Far East Command statement was an answer to a recent story by Associated Press Correspondent John Randolph criticizing censorship in Korea and the 8th Army's relations with the press.

Randolph wrote that in recent months correspondents had found a growing "attitude of opposition to newsmen on the part of the whole military in Korea.

The Far East Command statement answered Randolph's criticisms contending that some of the things about which he complained were brought on by the correspondents themselves.

Several correspondents in Korea voiced dissatisfaction with the Army statement.

They said there had been no apparent change in relations with the military and there still is a growing belief that the 8th Army has taken a position of opposition to the press.

Randolph wrote his story after Allied correspondents boycotted the arrival in Seoul of Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, U. S. Army chief of staff, because of tight restrictions imposed by the military.

Randolph listed a series of incidents which he said had progressively soured relations with newsmen. They included:

1. A growing tendency toward irresponsible and double censorship, that is, censorship by Army information officers and again by regular censors.

2. A personal withdrawal of the command from contact with the press.

3. Tighter restrictions on press service.

4. Open and concealed limitations on press communications and transportation.

5. Discrimination against accredited newsmen.

The Far East command answer said flatly:

"Double censorship does not exist in the Far East theater and censorship never has been exercised over anything but information affecting military security."

When correspondents talk of double censorship they mean suppression or withholding of news at the source by military public information officers or military command officers.

Correspondents in Korea today stuck by their assertion that double censorship does exist in Korea.

In one of the most recent cases the United Nations Military Armistice Commission told of two American servicemen taken prisoner and held four days by the Communists in the demilitarized zone.

But a reporter who called the men's unit to get additional details of what had happened to the two men were told: "Eighth Army has told us not to talk to newsmen about that at all."

The Army's initial statement acknowledged that at the time Chinese broke the South Korean line on the East Central Front last July "special temporary censorship instructions" were issued by the Far East Command.

It said news bureau chiefs in Tokyo were informed of those special censorship instructions and understood them.

Randolph did not criticize the operation of official censors in handling the story of the Red breakthrough.

He wrote:

"In this battle ... 8th Army abandoned its traditional frank and open daily press briefings, distorted items of fact, withheld important information and attempted in every possible way to conceal the truth from the correspondents."

Randolph's quarrel was not with official censorship but with the double censorship. He accused the Army of lying to correspondents about what was happening in the fight.

Randolph also criticized military refusal to release information about a mistake bombing in which 14 Americans were killed.

"The facts were released but tardily," the Army statement said. It also said a new policy has been established under which the 8th Army will release the facts on an as soon as possible basis.

Tonight Far East Command headquarters released a brief statement saying a joint investigation of the bombing had concluded that aircraft of the U. S. 1st Marine Air Wing accidentally bombed the front-line position.

Britain Speeds Up Atomic Research

LONDON (AP)—Britain is setting up a new atomic energy corporation to speed the development of atom bombs and nuclear power for industry.

Plans for the new government-controlled body—similar to the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission—were disclosed last night in a government white paper. It said a preliminary transfer of authority from the Ministry of Supply, which has run Britain's atomic program thus far, would take place Jan. 1.

They Weren't Interested Then

Only one official who received an FBI report naming the late Harry Dexter White as an agent of the Communist conspiracy admits he was interested enough to read it.

James F. Byrnes, then secretary of state, says he tried to block White's appointment to a sensitive position after reading the report and discussed this with President Truman. Whether Mr. Truman also will recall it as a matter of his integrity vs the integrity of Gov. Byrnes

Even Gov. Byrnes has been slow on the uptake.

In the report of the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee issued last August, it was revealed that a document issued by an "intelligence agency" (the FBI) on Nov. 25, 1945, was "circulated among several key government agencies and made available to the President of the United States."

The subcommittee said that Vice President Nixon, then a member of Congress, had quoted from this document in 1950, the first public acknowledgement that it existed.

The document listed persons in the government who had been named by Elizabeth Bentley as espionage contacts while she was an agent of the Communist conspiracy. The name of Harry Dexter White was included.

Among names mentioned were N. Gregory Silvermaster, Lauchlin Currie, John Abt and Alger Hiss.

Many of these people had been named six years earlier in a report prepared by A. A Berle Jr., then assistant secretary of state. The Berle report also was disregarded.

Those were the days when federal administrators were not interested in the activities of Russian espionage agents inside the government. Some of their best friends and most powerful associates were red to the core.

That was the worst part of the mess in Washington. The mess is being cleaned up, to the consternation of people trying to make it appear that the new administration is doing nothing of importance

Judged by their squeaks and squawks of pain, it has grabbed hold where the hair is short and the flesh is tender.

Two-Party Whatzit

During the years when Republicans were the loyal opposition in Washington, their function in the two-party system was pointed out many times.

This was done in rebuttal to charges that they were "interfering" with programs offered by Presidents Roosevelt and Truman

Few Americans understand the two-party system well enough to tolerate it when it does what it is supposed to do. Interference is the essence of the plan

In other words, the system is built on strife. Harmony and cooperation are its natural enemies. Confusion is a sign of decay

Democrats now are the loyal opposition in Washington. Republicans need to remember what they used to point out when their party was being criticized for doing what it was supposed to do

Sen. Lister Hill of Alabama, a leading Democrat, has written in The Reporter that he does not want his party to pretend that it sees eye to eye with President Eisenhower. He does not want it to offer its own program. He does not want it to shush internal disagreement for the sake of a phony harmony.

His job as he sees it is to hold the majority party accountable for its policies — to make it fight for them, justify them and sustain them in congressional voting. That is the two-party system, regardless of which party happens to be the majority.

Sen. Hill as the Democratic counterpart of the late Sen. Taft of Ohio, will know how to lead a loyal opposition.

Play Ball!

The U. S. Supreme Court yielded to legal expediency in its ruling that organized baseball, being a sport instead of a business, is not subject to anti-trust laws

But since it arrived at the right decision even though by wrong reasoning, there will be few complaints. It is unlikely Congress will try to do by any new law what the Supreme Court was unwilling to do under any old law

The fact is, as it always has been, that organized baseball is a business based on a sport, like organized football, organized horse-racing and organized boxing

Organized baseball, being better organized than any of the other businesses based on sports, has developed an elaborate structure of safeguards for its security. One of these is the device in player contracts for keeping the wealthiest clubs from cornering the cream of the talent

This device has been called unconstitutional by its critics, though the Supreme Court has made no ruling on that charge. It merely has ruled that it finds no reason to interfere with organized baseball because it is a sport and not a business and sports are not affected by anti-trust laws.

The fact is and has been that baseball is a very big business which could not exist if it did not operate contrary to anti-trust laws, which now are half a century old and need revision.

Public Entitled to Truth

By David Lawrence

Many Questions on White Case Still Unanswered

Former President Truman personally isn't on trial in the court of public opinion on any charge that he had any sympathy for officials with Communist connections, but the carelessness of staff members in and around the White House in dealing with Communists who had infiltrated the government is certainly the issue.

Attorney General Brownell has rendered a public service in focusing attention on White House laxity during the Democratic administrations.

The Soviet conspiracy had a man sitting on the White House staff during the administration of President Roosevelt, and the question now is what persons or influences unknown to Mr. Truman kept him from getting the proper evaluation of FBI reports.

For certainly the FBI furnished enough data to have kept Harry Dexter White from being given a promotion when he was assistant secretary of the treasury, and sufficient information, moreover, at least to start a loyalty check of some kind on his record No loyalty board procedure was applied in his case.

THE FACT IS that Harry Dexter White's office should have been investigated by his superiors, either by the White House or by the secretary of the treasury.

But it was not until 1947 that any system of checking was instituted with respect to the loyalty of officials above the usual clerical positions. The checking was done on persons entering the service but not those already in the government

The story starts with an FBI memorandum dated November 5, 1945. It was sent to the president and other high officials a few days later

It told of a confession made by Elizabeth Bentley, who came to the New York office of the FBI on November 8 1945, and related her contacts with the late Jacob Golos, a Soviet espionage agent. She described in detail her work as a Communist courier.

Miss Bentley's testimony by itself would not have caused so much stir if it had not corroborated the memorandum already obtained by the FBI about the talks between Adolph Berle, assistant secretary of state, in 1939 and Whittaker Chambers concerning Alger Hiss.

THE NOVEMBER 25 1945, FBI memorandum said in part

"Bentley advised that members of this group (of Soviet espionage agents) had told her that Hiss of the State Department had taken Harold Glasser of the Treasury Department and two or three others and had turned them over to direct control by the Soviet representatives in this country In this regard, attention is directed to Whittaker Chambers' statements regarding Alger Hiss and to the statement by Gouzenko regarding an assistant to the secretary of state who was a Soviet Agent."

Miss Bentley referred specifically to Harry Dexter White as a member of the Soviet espionage group, and included in it Lauchlin Currie, administrative assistant to President Roosevelt.

The FBI reported also that, out of the 80 individuals named by Miss Bentley as being connected with the Soviet espionage organization in Washington or New York, 37 were identified as employes of the United States government in Washington, D.C.

MISS BENTLEY has been called as a witness in the important Communist cases prosecuted by the federal government, and her testimony has never been used unless corroborated by other witnesses.

The FBI has never found her statements of fact to be false. Juries in most all the cases in which she has testified have convicted the accused persons on trial.

The FBI as a rule does not evaluate the meaning of reports on individuals when furnishing data to higher officials for their consideration but on February 1, 1946 — just before the Senate confirmed Harry Dexter White, then assistant secretary of the treasury, for the post of U.S. executive director of the International Monetary Fund—the following extraordinary statement about White's record was sent to the White House by order of J. Edgar Hoover, director of the FBI

"This information has been received from numerous confidential sources whose reliability has been established either by inquiry or long established observation and evaluation. In no instance is any transaction or event related where the reliability of the source of information is questionable."

A COPY WENT simultaneously to Tom Clark, then U.S. attorney general and now an associate justice of the Supreme Court of the United States.

It would seem incredible that either Mr. Truman or Mr. Clark would ignore so pointed a warning from the FBI.

The real question is who interceded or who pooh-poohed the FBI report or who talked with Harry Dexter White and accepted his denials as authoritative?

These are the true points on which future inquiry will turn as the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee begins questioning members of the governmental staff who may have a recollection as to why the FBI report was not only disregarded but why Mr. Truman on April 30, 1946, signed such a laudatory letter to Mr. White when he left one post in the government to take up another.

Undoubtedly such a letter was prepared for Mr Truman's signature. Did the staff member who wrote this know what the FBI report had said?

These are only a few of the unanswered questions which will come up as the inquiry is pursued, as it will be.

Despite the cries of "red herring" being raised again, as they were in 1948, the public is interested in ferreting out the truth about how the White House staff operated when a sensational FBI report confronted the staff of the chief executive challenging the loyalty of a high official of the government

(New York Herald Tribune)

By TRUMAN TWILL

As one who twitched when federal employes were put in the pillory for taking too many coffee breaks I am pleased to note the tempest in the bureaucratic coffeepot has subsided.

The Washington coffee break is back in good standing again. Some of the best coffee breakers in the republic are in charge of the employes down there and know how to defend their prerogatives.

Whether or not a let-up in work adds anything to efficiency is debatable. It's not debatable, though, that American workers, from No 1 all the way down to the low man on the pole are strongly addicted to the let-up.

The coffee break is only one manifestation of this addiction.

The drinking - fountain break accounts for that beaten patch which leads to the cold-water supply in every factory and office.

The pencil-sharpener break has used up more pencils than ever were used up by rubbing them against paper.

The "basement" break used to keep schoolteachers guessing — and still does

Millions of dollars have been spent to establish the habit of stopping every so often to slurp up a bottle of pop

Even more millions have been spent to put over the idea that things will be done more efficiently if the fellows and gals knock off periodically to light up a paper cigar.

In the higher echelons, there is a thing called the Florida break, where overworked people who can afford it flee to the sandy peninsula so they can dismount from their high horses.

Many of us are victims of what could be called the window break, which consists of staring at something outside instead of concentrating on what's inside.

Everyone chained to a hot typewriter knows about the ribbon-changing break, which is only an excuse for putting off the beginning of a fresh session of klakity-klak.

There is the slumber break, which consists of going blank in the head, sometimes without closing the eyes in actual slumber.

All inmates of the House of Ulcer have milk and alkaline breaks, when they step out of the pitcher's box to appease the agony of not having stepped out before it was too late.

There is the telephone-conversation break whereby important tasks are sidestepped by the simple device of talking at length about short subjects.

There is the hand - washing break, always good for a few minutes of relaxation.

Before things got too efficient for their own good, there used to be a beer-break, while the boys nipped out the side door for a quick one.

There are the two-hour lunch, the golf appointment and the business conference, adaptations of the same idea at higher levels of organization.

At lower levels, besides such simple dodges as the coffee break, are rest periods, machine-down periods and first-aid visits

What's good enough for private enterprise is good enough for Washington, where goofing - off has been restored to the good standing it enjoys everywhere else in the republic.

He Remembered Them

NEW LONDON, Conn. (AP) — John T. Heard is now known as the policeman with "a camera eye." He got the title in city court from Prosecutor Aaron E. Elfenbein after he recognized and arrested in one day three motorists whose licenses he knew were under suspension In one case, the suspension was four years old, but Heard remembered that the man has lost his driving permit.

Dewey Beneficiary of 1953 Elections

By Martin S. Hayden

One political beneficiary of last week's off-year elections may be Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

Dewey gained both directly and indirectly.

Directly, returns from a New York City victory for the New Deal immediately stepped up the demand that Dewey go for a fourth term in 1954 to sidetrack the state house ambitions of Rep. Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr.

Indirectly, a blossoming opposition theme that GOP election losses trace to indecisiveness on the part of President Eisenhower have focused attention on the fact that, whatever else may be said against Dewey, indecision is not one of his faults.

The propaganda line that the President moves firmly too seldom, and stands fast too rarely, was picked up by Democrats last winter before they had any evidence.

INITIALLY, and in deference to the President's popularity, it was kept on the whispering - campaign level and fueled by such capital cocktail party quips as the definition of the "Eisenhower Waltz"—"one step forward, two back, hesitate, and then sidestep."

Now, with the President allegedly softened by New Jersey and Wisconsin ballot setbacks, the chorus is more open; Democrats and right-wing Republicans alike are chanting that he has not moved with the firmness the nation demands.

The White House answer is "wait" and that upcoming recommendations to Congress on Eisenhower farm, tax, trade and budgetary plans will take care of all demands for action.

MEANWHILE, however, a couple of Dewey ventures — where more circumspect politicians, like angels, might fear to tread—have received interest in the Dewey technique which has kept New York State Republican since 1942

One instance is his still-continuing battle with the Republican state senate leader, Arthur H. Wicks; the other is the now-concluded campaign of Dewey's state insurance commissioner against the formidable Thomas I. Parkinson, board chairman of the Equitable Life Assurance Society.

The Wicks case typifies Dewey's quick trigger finger when any associate threatens his "clean government" reputation.

As the GOP leader in the New York State Senate Wicks has been the president pro tempore of the body. On October 1, when Lieut. Gov. Frank C. Moore resigned to become president of the Rockefeller Government Affairs Foundation, Wicks automatically succeeded him and, 24 hours later, he was on the front pages in trouble.

A GREAT PROBE at the Yonkers Raceway brought out on October 2, that the brand new lieutenant governor was one of a number of public officials, businessmen and top labor leaders who made periodic trips to the Sing Sing Prison cell of Joseph S. (Joey) Fay, former AFL official and convicted extortionist.

For ten days Dewey investigated and kept relatively quiet while politicians predicted he would soft-peddle an affair involving a legislative leader with strong rural alliances.

On October 12, Dewey demanded Wicks' resignation as senate president pro tem, and, therefore, as acting lieutenant governor.

Wicks refused and said he would "submit my case" to fellow senators when the legislature met next winter; Dewey promptly called the legislature for a November 17 special session

Dewey's obduracy involves more than simple defiance of a strong leader of his own party.

IT ALSO PLACES in jeopardy a legislative reapportionment program close to Dewey's heart and rated as likely to fail unless Wicks and his rural lieutenants crack the whip in Dewey's behalf.

The governor apparently decided all that was secondary to the importance of the "Caesar's wife" repute of his regime

In the Equitable case the Dewey administration showed similar contempt for big-business interests.

An insurance company as big as Equitable, the nation's third largest, is not normally kicked around by a state insurance commissioner.

Dewey's man, Alfred J. Bohlinger, took umbrage, however, at the fact that Parkinson, a 72-year-old and $100,000-a-year pillar of the business was guilty of alleged favoritism in awarding Equitable contracts to his son and business associates.

THOUGH IT IS admitted that Parkinson has Equitable in a top financial position, Bohlinger first suggested quietly that he resign. When that didn't work, he asked it publicly. The climax came Thursday when the Equitable board voted to retire its chairman as of February 18.

The Parkinson and Wicks cases typify the dramatic administration that has kept Dewey in the governorship for a tenure second only to that of George Clinton who was governor for 21 of the state's first 24 years

Now, with New Deal - Tammany victim New York City presaging the political rise of another Roosevelt, GOP politicians are asking hopefully that "the little men on the wedding cake" forget his indicated retirement plans and run for them just once again.

Marion County History Brevities

By EDNA S. DUTTON

When the commissioners appointed by the General Assembly of the State to select a permanent seat of justice in Marion County they found a vigorous contest waging as to the place to be named. Caledon had been platted by James Kilbourn of Columbus in 1820. Eber Baker and Alexander Holmes had laid out their town plat and called it Marion, and Byron Kilbourn, a non-resident, had laid out a paper town called Bellevernon five miles east of Marion on the "Mad Pike." In the contest also were the settlers of Big Island and Isaac Mouser who lived about two miles north of Marion. After being "wined and dined" by the citizens of these respective localities, the decision was for Marion, "on account of the ease with which water could be obtained on Eber Baker's land."

Malays Speak English

IPOH, Malaya (AP) — Malayans speak better English than most English people, in the opinion of British author Alastair Alpin MacGregor, writer of more than 20 books on history, travel and biography. "Nothing amazes me so much as the ease and facility with which Malayans and other Eastern people have mastered the intricate English language," said MacGregor, who is here gathering material for a 10,000-word article on Malaya.

Kremlin Request Recital

("The Moscow Radio announced that it would be glad to play request numbers for British listeners."—News item.)

We read the above and, assuming they would do as much for America, we put in a call to Russia, got the Moscow Radio and said, "I have a request number."

"Very good," was the reply, "we will be glad to play the 'Russian Lullaby.'"

"I don't want 'Russian Lullaby,'" we said. "How about 'A Pretty Girl Is Like A Melody'?"

"Stand by for 'Shostakovich's Sonata,'" the voice said. We were getting nowhere but persisted

"You announced that you would be glad to play request numbers for the free world," we said.

"Certainly. Do you want 'The Volga Boatman' complete or just the chorus?" was the answer

"Listen, have you any Irving Berlin numbers?"

"Only East Berlin."

"What about Rodgers & Hammerstein?"

"Sickel & Hammerstein only," the voice snapped.

We are no man to give up easily and asked, "Have you 'Blues In The Night'?"

"'Blues in the Nyet' Nyet!" was the reply.

"'Dancing in The Dark'?"

"No dancing. It destroys the five year plan for heavy industry. You'll like Rachmaninoff."

"Don't you play any popular tunes?" we demanded

"You want Tschaikowsky's 'Marche Slav' or a medley of Siberian folk songs?"

"Look," we persisted, "Have you 'Happy Talk' from South Pacific?"

"Russia has no happy talk from anywhere for anybody," the voice said sternly.

"Would you consider playing 'Make Believe'?" we asked

"What is 'Make Believe'?" Moscow asked.

"It's the theme song of the Communists at Panmunjom," we explained The man let it pass. So we suggested that old tune, "I Don't Want to Set the World on Fire" just to get the reaction

"Ah, you mean the 'Vishinsky Gavotte'!" the voice said

"We are having troubles under the procedural rules or something," we said. "Have you 'My Blue Heaven'?"

"Okay, I play you 'My Red Cell,'" came the reply.

"'Scrub Me, Mama With a Boogie Beat'?" we suggested

"No both numbers!" the voice thundered. "It is winter in Moscow."

We were getting pretty impatient "Could you play 'Kiss Me Again' or 'I've Never Been in Love Before'?" we asked

"Kisses! Love! The opiate of the people!" barked Moscow. 'Make sense! Ask for some real music."

"Very well. How about a medley including 'God Bless America' 'The Stars and Stripes Forever' and 'There Will Always Be an England'?" we asked firmly.

Everything went dead.

Afraid To Change Habits of Dress

Fashion Designer Calls Men Cowards

BY DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Men are cowards, says Esa Schiaparelli, French fashion designer who is rapidly taking over the styling of American life.

They are cowards, she claims because they're afraid to depart from the well trodden rut in their habits of dress. As a result they look dull and feel uncomfortable most of the time.

Schiaparelli thinks men should wear bright colored dinner jackets and light, comfortable evening shirts ravished with ruffles. She advocates daring in sports clothes and draws the line only at shorts for business wear in the city and during business hours. She concedes men look better in regular suits. If they wear shorts she asks what are they going to do about those hairy legs?

These remarks came at a gala luncheon in New York celebrating the coming of Coty Schiaparelli Inc., a sort of creations corporation coordinating all the various interests of this small Italian born designer in the American market. The function was attended by representatives of various U. S. manufacturing groups, retail store executives and the press.

The name of the Schiaparelli name it has been found will seal almost anything from children's snow suits to men's neckties so don't be surprised if your next purchase of a sports shirt for Pop or a handbag for Aunt Alice comes wrapped in shocking pink and bears a Schiaparelli signature.

This astute business woman discovered as long ago as 1936 that the American public loves big names. Her introduction of "shocking pink" accomplished a color revolution throughout most of the world and her perfume named after the color still heads the best-seller lists.

She broke into the Paris couture a long time ago with hand knit sweaters in daring designs branched out into daytime and evening gowns made news by such didoes as providing her mannequins with lamb chop hats and china collars.

Schiaparelli sees no limits to her enterprises. She has even designed such things as mattresses and dolls. She believes fashion should be an integral part of modern living and that everything we use—from toothpaste to garbage pails—could be improved by good design.

Her immediate aim says Schiaparelli is to design a completely coordinated wardrobe for every man, woman and child in the United States. After that she may go to work on the Hottentots.

Eisenhower Nominates Social Security Head

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has nominated John William Tramburg, 40, to succeed Arthur J. Altmeyer as commissioner of social security.

Tramburg, a Republican, has been executive director of the Wisconsin Department of Public Welfare since 1950. A native of Fall River, Wis., he is a World War II Navy veteran, former school teacher and former juvenile court probation officer.

Altmeyer resigned early this year.

TAX STAMPS REDEEMED

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The state auditor's office reports state sales tax stamp redemptions for the first 10 months of 1953 totaled $3,547,658. Auditor James A. Rhodes said the October and September redemption checks worth $16,334 and $211,007 respectively, were the smallest of the year. Stamps are redeemed at 3 per cent of face value.

Wilson Tells Story On Self in Address Before Press Club

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson, former president of General Motors Corp., told this story on himself in a talk to the National Press Club yesterday.

A senator decided that his Plymouth car was getting old and out of date, and he wanted to buy a new automobile and took up the matter with one of my General Motors friends, asking which one of the General Motors products would be best to buy. He said he did not want to buy a Cadillac because that might make him too conspicuous. My General Motors friends said that they all were good and suggested that he try one with an automatic transmission.

"The senator said 'Well, maybe that would be all right, but when there is no clutch pedal, where do I put my left foot?'

"My General Motors friend said 'Put it in your mouth like my former boss does.'"

There were nearly four million babies born in the United States in 1952.

U.S. Fears Price Drop

Chile To Dump Copper Surplus on World Market

NEW YORK (AP)—Politics, economy and the cold war have copper and other metal men up in the air today.

The politics is at the international level. An urge for economy has caused Uncle Same to stop buying metal from U. S. producers for his defense stockpile. And the cold war angle is the United States' urgent desire to keep Russia from getting any of Chile's surplus copper—a war essential.

The world demand and supply of copper is in fairly delicate balance at the moment, with the price holding firm around 30 cents a pound while the United States and Chile haggle over what to do with the big stocks of copper backing up in the South American republic.

Copper men here say that the price is likely to drop, no matter how the present impasse between Washington and Santiago is resolved.

If Chile goes through with current threats to offer her more than 100,000 tons of surplus copper on the world market, the price drop could be sharp. The surplus piled up because Chile asked 35½ cents a pound and could find no takers.

If Chile finally sells it to the United States for retirement into the U. S. stockpile of defense materials, the release of new Chile copper output on the world market seems likely to break the present delicate balance and tilt the price downward.

A rush of foreign metal has already caused price breaks in zinc and lead breaks which have caused the shutting down of a number of American mines. Copper, zinc and lead are usually closely tied together in consumption and price trends.

Copper, lead and zinc men say the demand for their metals continues high, even if off a little from the Korean War peak. The trouble, they say, is first that the U. S. government has stopped buying for its stockpile, and second, that there is a big world supply and an increase in import volsme here. This has eased a little in recent weeks. But the Chilean copper situation could easily upset this, metal trade sources say.

The stalemate in the negotiations between Washington and Santiago has caught most metal men by surprise. They had expected the United States to take Chile's surplus off the market, and were preparing then to deal in an orderly fashion with the world price adjustment that would follow.

But international politics seems to have caused a breakdown in the negotiations. Metal sources here understand Washington had agreed to pay around 30 cents a pound for Chile's surplus, but in return wanted Chile to promise that none of her new copper output went to Russia and to agree to revise her taxation of the American copper companies that own Chile's mines.

DOG GETS HEARING AID. Dr R M Erwin had a used hearing aid around so he had it fitted for his deaf 13-year-old Irish setter, Phez. With molded plastic plugs in each ear and the battery carried in a pouch attached with straps, the dog looks real happy in its Portland, Ore., home. Erwin said the dog apparently likes the hearing aid.

Harpster-Lewis FFA Plans Safe Driving Campaign

The Harpster-Lewis Chapter of the Future Farmers of America will initiate a safer driving project Thursday when Cpl. D. M. DeWalt of the Marion post of the state highway patrol addresses students and residents.

The talk is slated for 1:30 p.m. at the Harpster High School auditorium and will usher in a year-round safe driving campaign.

Following Cpl. DeWalt's talk, the students who hold driver's licenses will take part in a driver contest. The competition will include driving forward and backward, close quarter maneuvering in both directions, turning in limited space, parallel parking and a short written examination. The pupils will be rated by a panel of judges and the FFA chapter will offer cash prizes to winners. The FFA boy who has highest score will be eligible to enter the state FFA Skilled Driver contest to be held at the 1954 Ohio State Fair.

The project will continue through the rest of the year with inspection of cars and trucks and "approved for safe driving" stickers, furnished by the FFA chapter, being issued by garage operators in the community.

Dynamite Fuse in Auto No Joke, Owner Learns

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Walter Sexton, 35, had a mangled hand today after deciding to repair his auto's headlights, out of commission for two weeks.

Where the light fuse should have been Sexton found what looked like a piece of copper tubing. "I took it out and started to cut off the end," he related.

That's when the dynamite fuse exploded. Sexton maintains he has no enemies, that somebody was just joking.

Modern brass is an alloy mostly of copper and zinc, although in early times it referred to the alloy of copper and tin which we call bronze.

City Man Finds Farm Life Ok

LANCASTER N Y (UP)—That old adage that a "city feller can't become a farmer" has been defied by a man whose philosophy of farming has been based largely on "labor-saving devices"

Cedric F. Smallidge of Lancaster, was once owner of the Metallizing Service Co. of Buffalo He read a few farm journals and decided to take the plunge

Today, Smallidge owns 200 acres of farmland has 22 registered Holstein cows and two bulls The farm is self-sustaining has 40 acres of pasture and 160 acres cropped with oats, wheat and hay

And Smallidge operates the whole business alone

One innovation was the use of the floors of the stalls He used surplus rubber conveyor belting for straw bedding was pushed aside by the cows and they ended up sleeping on a concrete floor

"I save time money labor and straw by bedding my cows on rubber" he said

Rubber flooring also covers other parts of the floor and makes for easy cleaning, he said

He also plans to use an endless chain of steel paddles to carry waste to a spreader. Operated by a two-horsepower electric motor, the chain will save time and energy.

"We've thrown away our pitchforks and cut labor to a minimum" the modern farmer said.

Near Record Crop Harvest Is Speeded By Good Weather

WASHINGTON (AP)—Helped along by nearly ideal weather, U. S. farmers are completing harvest of crops which almost equal last year's second largest volume in history.

Reporting this in its monthly crop report yesterday, the Agriculture Department also said prospects for the fall-sown winter wheat to be harvested next summer are considerably better than a year ago. This year's winter wheat yield was down about 16 per cent from last year's.

The report did not change prospects that Secretary of Agriculture Benson will set up acreage planting allotments for next year's corn crop. The new estimate for this year's corn crop was 3,180,000,000 bushels, down 16 million from the forecast a month earlier.

Korean Talks Are Canceled For Sixth Day

POW Interviews Fast Nearing Collapse as Deadlock Continues

PANMUNJOM (AP) — Interviews with North Korean and Chinese war prisoners who have refused to go home were canceled today for the sixth consecutive day as the tottering explanation program moved nearer collapse.

The Indian custodial command almost automatically called off interviews scheduled for tomorrow after the Communists insisted again on seeing 365 Chinese prisoners missed last Thursday by stalling Red persuaders.

Ready for Talks

Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya, Indian chairman of the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission (NNRC) stayed at his headquarters here, apparently ready to make a second trip to Kaesong to talk with the Red high command.

Thimayya went to Kaesong Monday in an unsuccessful effort to restart the stalled program.

There was no indication the Reds were ready to accept new rules laid down by Thimayya. The Indian general has told the Communists to interview entire compounds of 500 men each in a day or skip those who are not interviewed.

Thimayya has said Indian troops would finish screening the prisoners if the Communist explanation program is called off.

The present deadlock developed after Red persuaders dragged out interviews, leaving many prisoners unprocessed at the end of the day.

Reds May Want Break

There has been speculation that the Communists would welcome a breakdown in the program since only 3 per cent of the prisoners interviewed so far have elected to return to their Red-controlled homelands.

Diplomatic staff advisers met in secret session for the fourth time in an attempt to draft an agenda for the preliminary peace conference talks.

The U N and Red delegates met for an hour and scheduled another meeting for tomorrow.

The chief spokesman for the Allies in the lower-level talks, Kenneth Young, said the discussion continues "very serious and businesslike." He said today's hour was "time well spent," but added quickly that "every day is well spent here."

The Communists insist that the first item on the agenda be their proposal to invite neutrals to the Korean peace conference. The Allies want to fix the time and place of the conference, then exchange views on composition of the parley.

While the explanations to balky POWs were halted, the repatriation commission took up secondary matters.

Fire

St. The fire broke out when electric wiring in the car owned by Ray Schweinfurth of near Prospect short circuited. Firemen estimated damage to the car at $35.

Three minutes later, firemen from the Central station were called out to a fire in a garage at the rear of the residence of Samuel Nicolosi at 699 Sagar St. The blaze was confined to some papers and rubbish in the garage and was believed caused by some children tossing a match onto the papers. There was no damage to the garage, firemen said.

Eisenhower

he is not going to prejudice Brownell's case by commenting in advance.

Neither, added the President is he going to be a party to rank injustice to anyone.

Delivers Lecture

At one point, the President delivered a little lecture on this subject. He said that while the nation must exercise eternal vigilance against communism it must avoid any un-American effort to accuse anyone unjustly.

Sharply, Eisenhower took issue with Raymond P. Brandt of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch when the newsman asked a question suggesting the administration had pictured Truman as a traitor.

The Chief Executive glared at Brandt and told him he wouldn't answer that—that he rejected the premise.

Brandt, who in the past has questioned Eisenhower intensively on various matters, began by saying he had a series of questions he wished to put.

Frowning, the President said some of the other reporters might like a chance to do some questioning, too. He allowed Brandt to continue, however, after the newsman assured him his questions would be of general interest.

Brownell Justified

One question was whether Brownell was justified in branding White as a spy after a federal grand jury in New York had investigated the official and failed to indict him. Eisenhower said he did not know the details of the matter.

Another newsman asked if the FBI didn't have a moral obligation to make public whatever evidence it has against White since its reports impugned his loyalty.

No, Eisenhower answered quickly, there's too much material, apparently meaning unevaluated material in all FBI reports to allow them to be made public in their entirety.

As a matter of fact, he said, he himself will not look at such reports unless it is essential.

Does the President, a reporter asked, feel that when an accusation is made it should be accompanied by written evidence so that the public can assess it?

Eisenhower replied he believes the essentials should be made public.

Up To Brownell

But he added later that exactly how Brownell should proceed is up to the attorney general.

In similar vein, he referred to Brownell's decision to why the White matter was brought up in a luncheon speech by the attorney general rather than laid before some official body such as a grand jury.

Anthony Leviero of the New York Times asked whether—if a grand jury has decided there is insufficient evidence against a man to indict him—it is proper for an attorney general to accuse the man of being a spy and accuse a former President of harboring him.

The President replied that he is not the one to judge for an accomplished lawyer. He added questions along that line should be addressed to Brownell.

Andrew Tully, Scripps Howard newspaperman, had asked if the trouble is Brownell won't see reporters. He asked if the President would use his influence with the attorney general to get him to answer more questions.

Smiling, Eisenhower said it looks to him as if newsmen probably are getting more sustenance than Brownell thinks they should.

Not Going to Interfere

Then turning serious and tapping the table for emphasis, the President said he is not going to tell Brownell how to run his office.

Brownell, he went on, is interested in justice and decency and in cleaning up what he has got to clean up.

We'll see how he handles it, the President added.

At the Capitol, Rep. Walter of Pennsylvania, senior Democrat of the Un-American Activities Committee, told reporters that Eisenhower's news conference comments show "he certainly must have been shocked, just as every body else was, because of the reflection on the patriotism of ex-President Truman." Walter added.

"The President's position indicates he has less regard for partisan politics than have some people he has surrounded himself with, and some of the members of his party in Congress."

Democrats on the committee have protested that they were not consulted at all before Chairman Velde (R-Ill) ordered subpoenas for Truman, Clark and Byrnes.

Some Republicans on the group also have said they had no advance knowledge of Velde's action.

Atty. Gen. Brownell says the FBI report was sent Truman months before he promoted White, and that another went to the White House while White's nomination was before the Senate.

Copies of the first, Brownell says, went also to Truman's attorney general, Clark, and his secretary of state, Byrnes.

Truman has declared he recalls no such thing ever happening.

Byrnes was called to testify tomorrow together with Harry H. Vaughan, retired major general who was Truman's military aide. Clark was scheduled to appear with Truman Friday.

Vaughan says he doesn't recall ever seeing the FBI reports which Brownell says were delivered to him for Truman's attention.

Byrnes' Statement

Byrnes said in a statement Monday night he saw one report, went to the White House about it and suggested that Truman withdraw White's name from nomination as U. S. director of the International Monetary Fund. He said he left with the impression Truman planned to call White in and talk to him.

But the appointment went through and White served until 1947, when, Truman has said, it was learned White was "wrong."

The Senate internal security subcommittee headed by Sen. Jenner (R-Ind) has subpoenaed Vaughan for tomorrow also and arranged with Byrnes to supply replies to written questions.

There was some doubt that Truman, Byrnes or Clark could be forced to comply with any congressional summonses to testify. Further, some Democratic members questioned the procedure of the House committee, headed by Rep. Velde (R-Ill), in issuing the subpoenas.

Closed Door Sessions

In any event, all the sessions planned for this week were scheduled behind closed doors, with the public and reporters barred. Whether there would be open sessions was something only time could tell.

Truman who has termed Brownell's charges a desperate political move, said in a New York speech last night it was ridiculous to suggest that as president he was soft toward Communists. He said, however, that he always showed respect for the rights of individuals.

The former President brought cheers and applause from his 1,300 listeners when he departed from his prepared text to say:

"I am rather skeptical of fake crusaders who dig up and distort records of the past to distract the attention of the public from political failures of the present."

Truman accepted the House group's subpoena late yesterday without comment, but the New York Times and Herald Tribune later quoted him as saying: "I accepted the subpoena. Draw your own conclusions."

First Since Lincoln

Congressional committees apparently have never subpoenaed a President and none since Lincoln has testified before one. Although they might be able to enforce a subpoena served on a former President, the Capitol Hill consensus was that no such case would ever be carried to the courts or won if it was. Some former Presidents have testified voluntarily.

As for Cook, there was some question that a Supreme Court ruling could be subpoenaed by a congressional group since the Constitution prescribes that the legislative and judicial branches, as well as the administrative, shall be separate. Earlier this year, Clark declined an invitation—not a summons—from another House group investigating past Justice Department operations.

The doubt in Byrnes' case stemmed from the fact he is governor of a sovereign state and also serves the administrative branch of the federal government as a U. S. delegate to the United Nations.

There was no comment from Byrnes or Clark as to whether they would comply. The committee wasn't talking about the legal basis for its subpoenas, or what it would do if they were ignored.

'Pumpkin' Papers Reviewed

It did dig into its files of the "Pumpkin Papers" of Whittaker Chambers to make public copies of documents certified by an expert to be in White's handwriting. Chambers testified in 1948 White had fed him secret information for the use of a Soviet spy ring.

About the same time White denied under oath that he was a Communist or was guilty of espionage. He died a few days later.

Chairman Velde was in Illinois yesterday when the Un-American Activities Committee issued its subpoenas. He was due in the capital today.

The committee's senior Democratic member, Rep. Walters of Pennsylvania, said it was a mistake to summon Truman and Byrnes, and a violation of committee rules to do so without first consulting all members.

"They would have told us anything we wanted to know if they were just asked," he said.

But, Walter added, the Democratic members were "not disposed to cover up" and that he would insist on a public hearing.

At Long Beach, Calif., Rep. Doyle (D-Calif.), a member, said he was opposed to calling Truman or Byrnes without a poll of the entire committee. Asked if he opposed a hearing, he replied, "No, no, definitely not."

Question Wording

Another member, Rep. Moulder (D-Mo), question whether the FBI reports said White was a Russian spy "or was that just Brownell's interpretation of what they said?"

In a similar vein, Sen. Ellender said in an interview today that he and other members of the Senate Appropriations Committee had been "assured over and over again by Director J. Edgar Hoover that the FBI never makes a conclusion."

"Brownell has said that J. Edgar Hoover said White was a spy and I'd like to see that statement in the report," Ellender declared. "I don't believe it. It would be contrary to all of the principles of the FBI. They only summarize information they have gathered and let others make their own conclusions."

Brownell said in a television interview yesterday that the White case is only the beginning of what he termed an expose of alleged coddling of Communists.

"We promised we would review the files and records," he said. "It will be a continuous program. We have not seen the end of it yet."

Boy, 14, Halts Fire, Suffers Leg Burns

Vernon Lee Strickland, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Strickland, 530 Toledo Ave., suffered serious burns on his left leg and foot last night when he attempted to keep a bon fire from spreading.

He had been working with another boy, Larry Ebin at the Ebin home north of Marion, and was burning trash when the accident occurred about 6 o'clock. As the fire started to spread, Vernon tried to stamp it out and his pants leg caught fire. He was alone at the time, the Ebin boy having been called into the house.

Vernon was taken to City Hospital where he was treated. He now is at home and his condition is reported to be "fairly good." He is a ninth grade student at Taft Junior High School and is a Marion Star newspaper boy.

Atrocity Probe Gets U.N. Okay

Charges To Be Aired In General Assembly

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) The U. N. General Assembly today agreed to air American charges that Communists in Korea committed unspeakable atrocities against U. N. prisoners.

The action came after Russia's Andrei Y. Vishinsky charged that the United States is trying to torpedo the Korean political conference by inflaming public opinion.

The fiery Russian, fighting to prevent U. N. consideration of a documented American report of mass murder which liquidated almost 30,000 prisoners including 6,113 Americans, told the U. N. General Assembly the report was an attempt to "foment war hysteria and frustrate reduction of tensions."

Assembly President Mrs. Vijaya Lakshmi Pandit of India tried twice to cut off the Vishinsky tirade.

The vote in the 60-nation body was 53-5 with 2 abstentions. The overwhelming approval represented a resounding rejection of Russian claims that the United States brought the charges only to wreck the Korean political conference.

Prejudice Affidavit Filed by J. C. Arter In Municipal Court

Charged with resisting arrest on Sept. 17, J. C. A. Arter, 54, of Marion yesterday filed an affidavit of prejudice in Municipal Court against Judge W. Dexter Hazen.

The affidavit charges that there is "bias and prejudice" on the part of Judge Hazen and that he has "discussed, formed, and expressed an opinion with various persons on this case, prejudicial to the defendant and defendant-attorney. . ." Arter is both the defendant and defendant-attorney.

The affidavit further charges that Arter posted a $100 bond for his appearance in court on the resisting arrest charge which bond was later released to him by Judge Hazen and returned to him by the court clerk.

Arter further contends that the hearing was again set for trial on Nov. 5 "Judge Hazen well knowing that defendant was out of the city, yet insisted on the case being tried, . . that on said date . . Judge Hazen . . did issue . . a bench warrant requiring city police to again pick up the defendant . . and re-post the $100 bond."

The affidavit further states that because Judge Hazen has discussed the case with other interested parties, "he is not able to sit in this case impartially and without bias, and that he is therefore disqualified to hear and determine this case."

Arter was arrested Monday on the bench warrant issued by Judge Hazen and was later freed when he posted the $100 bond referred to in the affidavit of prejudice.

The case is scheduled for a jury hearing in Municipal Court Nov. 27.

Arter was first arrested Sept. 17 on a warrant signed by Patrolman Homer Watson charging Arter "did resist officer Homer Watson, a duly appointed, qualified and acting police officer of the city of Marion, O."

mise solution with our perspective on future Italian-Yugoslav relations," Kardelj said. He was careful to emphasize, however, that Yugoslavia would never participate in any talks which had Italian occupation of Zone A as an advance condition for the meeting. Pijade followed much the same line.

Britain and the United States still say they intend to carry out their pledge to turn Zone A over to Italy but have avoided setting any date for withdrawal of the 7,000-man Allied garrison. Yugoslavia, which controls the territory's Zone B, has threatened to march on Zone A the moment Italian troops enter.

No Progress in Rome

Although Kardelj's remarks appeared to reflect increasing Yugoslav confidence that the Big Three Western Powers, Italy and Yugoslavia will be able to arrange talks on a possible solution, Rome reports indicated little progress had been made there.

Blowout Causes Crash

One minor traffic accident was reported this morning in Marion County by state patrolmen from the Marion post. Three no-injury [illegible] were reported by city police.

The county accident happened on State Route 95 about one and one-half miles east of Route 98, Tuesday at 10 a.m. A highway department truck from Morrow County blew out a tire and went off the side of the road.

Three Accidents in City

Three minor no-injury traffic accidents were investigated by city police during the last 24 hours.

Cars driven by Paul R. Kincaid, 19, of 755 Bellefontaine Ave., and Burdel N. Aldrich, 45, of near Marysville were damaged in a mishap in the 400 block on W. Center St. at 9:32 a.m. yesterday. Both were traveling east on W. Center St.

At 9:11 a.m. yesterday, cars driven west on Church St. by Frank Edgington, 80, of near Edison and Carl H. Kurk, 42, of 714 Mt. Vernon Ave. were damaged in an accident at S. Main and Church Sts.

Two cars were damaged in a collision at an alley intersection at the rear of the Central fire station on S. Prospect St. at 5:46 p.m. yesterday. The right side, wheels and headlight of one car driven north by George R. Blake, 52, of 312 S. Prospect St. were badly damaged and the front end of a car driven west by Douglas D. Kinsley, 23, of 576 Pearl St. was badly damaged. Both drivers told police they stopped at the intersection then drove on, police reported.

High authorities here said today the Western answer must be to get on with the defense job, regardless of what opportunities for negotiation may continue to be offered to Moscow.

Quick Action Sought

This means primarily that Eisenhower and Churchill can be expected to press upon Laniel arrangements for quick French action on the EDC Treaty, presumably emphasizing these two points:

1. There are not enough defense troops in Western Europe now, without West Germany, which would be rearmed under the EDC pact.

2. With Congress coming back in session in January, concrete evidence must shortly be provided that Western Europe is getting on with its defense arrangements if Congress is to be expected to vote more funds for foreign aid.

The heavy vote for Magsaysay was pulling all Nacionalista Democratic candidates for each Senate seats with him.

In the race for 102 congressional seats, coalition candidates were leading in 28 of 34 districts reporting.

The vote counting proceeded slowly and complete returns were not expected for at least two or three days.

Political observers generally agreed that the election was one of the cleanest ever held in The Philippines.

Sporadic violence claimed at least eight lives but in most precincts voting was quiet, orderly and heavy.

Armistice

wars are a part of our century and it is futile to try to escape them. We of the American Legion . . . believe that peace is an attainable goal and that it can and will be won by an America united in determination and devotion to it."

Behind what the speakers said were some somber facts of current affairs and of history, two chronicles of contrast.

The arm-ties which the forces of the German empire asked and which became effective an hour before noon on Nov. 11, 1918, represented a complete surrender. The terms were dictated by the Allies. There was left for Germany neither a will to fight nor the means so to do.

Korea Is Contrast

By contrast the armistice which exists today in Korea came about only after a year of negotiations and innumerable compromises by both sides.

It set only the ground rules for exchange of prisoners, the framework for a later peace conference and the lines upon which the opposing armies of the Communists and United Nations would stand during the armistice.

After 37 months of war the enemy was not defeated on the battlefield. He lands more than a million strong on or near the battle line, poised for new attack. And there is no certainty that the peace conference even will be held.

Buried in the rolling acres of Arlington Cemetery or at military or private cemeteries elsewhere are the 126,000 killed in battle or dead of wounds in the year and a half during which the United States "fought" World War I. When that "comedy" ended, over 22,000 Americans had died there.

Wyandot Joins Mental Health District Group

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY — Wyandot County has joined the membership of the North Central Ohio Mental Health District, which includes five other counties, Hancock, Seneca, Huron, Sandusky and Crawford.

Mrs. Stanley Stover of near Sycamore and L. C. Schoenberger, attorney, represented Wyandot County at the Monday night meeting of the trustees of the mental health organization which marked its first anniversary.

The organization operates a mental health clinic in Tiffin, where Dr. Richard Waite, is psychiatric director. The trustees voted to renew Dr. Waite's contract for two years with a salary of $10,000 for the first year.

Dr. Waite pointed out highlights of the first year of operation: the clinic served 451 patients during the year. Patients by counties, were Seneca 42 per cent; Sandusky 24, Hancock 13, Huron, 11; and Crawford, 8 per cent. Of the patients, 52 per cent were adults and 48 per cent, children.

The clinic has been prevented from charging fees, in a dispute with the state welfare department, but some patients have made donations, the trustees reported.

Hancock County reported that its quota in the annual fund raising campaign has been met. The association hopes to raise $16,000 for the year's operation.

President Is Pleased With Election Results

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today he is pleased by the Republican victory in yesterday's election in the 24th District of California.

At his news conference, Eisenhower noted with a smile that last week, after Democratic victories in New Jersey and New York, he had had to say that he wasn't completely happy with those results.

The conference dealt only briefly with the election results, in which Republican Gerald P. Lipscomb rolled up a majority in a field of four.

Most of the conference was devoted to the Harry Dexter White case.

Parades, Speeches, Prayer

Ohioans Join Armistice Day Observance in U.S.

By The Associated Press

Ohioans are joining the rest of the country today in observing an Armistice Day of mixed emotions.

Throughout the state there is gladness that one conflict is over—fear another may begin—sorrow for the loved ones lost in all of America's wars.

Parades, speeches and prayer are marking the 35th anniversary of the end of World War I.

Veterans groups in Cleveland, Youngstown, Dayton, Cincinnati, Columbus and elsewhere will parade or hold dinners.

Parade in Toledo

In Toledo veterans their auxiliaries and regular and reserve units of the Army, Navy and Marine Corps will march in a torchlight parade tonight. Rear Adm. Robert W. Cary, Toledo, of the Medal of Honor, will be honorary marshal.

Veterans of Korean campaigns will march tonight in Cincinnati to represent the Korean War. World Wars I and II, the Boxer Rebellion, the Vera Cruz landing, the Spanish War and the Battle of the Philippines.

Rear Adm. Harold O. Larson, assistant chief of Navy personnel, will speak at a noon luncheon given by veterans and civic groups.

In Columbus military and veterans organizations will stage a parade climaxing in a ceremony at the Soldiers and Sailors Memorial Auditorium, where reservists will dedicate Rose Young Hall, center of training activities for the Columbus Military District. Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas E. Young of Tiffin, parents of the World War II winner of the Medal of Honor, will attend.

Torchlight Parade Set

Another torchlight parade is scheduled in Hamilton. In the morning, the city held graveside services.

Middletown is making use the traditional two minutes of memorial silence to be observed starting at 11:58 a.m. All traffic lights will be red, halting the flow of downtown traffic.

The Joint Veterans Commission of Cuyahoga County will honor Paul Bellamy, editor of The Cleveland Plain Dealer, and a World War I veteran, for his services to veterans. N. R. Howard and Louis B. Seltzer, editors of the Cleveland News and Cleveland Press, respectively, will speak.

Other speakers at observances throughout the state include Lt. Gen. Walter Lee Weible, Army deputy chief of staff, at Cleveland; Rep. Robert T. Secrest (D—Ohio) at Zanesville; William Harris of Indianapolis, research specialist for the American Legion's Americanism Committee, at Middletown, and Lt. Col. Thane Dukes of the Ohio National Guard, Ohio civil defense director, at Springfield.

Many schools around the state will be closed. Most city, state and federal offices will be closed, and there will be no mail deliveries.

Army Report On Bombing Cites Marines

TOKYO (AP)—Gen. John E. Hull's headquarters announced today it was planes of the U. S. 1st Marine Air Wing that accidentally bombed a frontline artillery position in Korea Jan. 8, 1953, killing 13 American soldiers and wounding nine.

It was the first official statement fixing responsibility for the mistake bombing.

The Far East Command issued a brief statement saying a joint investigation had found Marine planes were involved in the accident after U. S. Army headquarters in Washington in a rebuttal of correspondent criticism of military censorship in the Far East—said the report of the investigation was available at Hull's public information office.

Press reports at the time of the accidental bombing said 11 Americans were killed.

The Army at that time announced that an investigation would be conducted.

In the ensuing months correspondents who asked about the results always were told they were not available.

Tonight the Far East Command public information office released the following statement:

"In reply to your query in the Chosen board of inquiry officer of the U. S. Army, Air Force, Navy and Marine Corps completed an investigation which concluded that aircraft of the 1st Marine Wing were involved in the accidental bombing of Jan. 8, 1953. It was this incident in which 13 men of a field artillery battalion were killed and nine were wounded. Navy officers have been in the U. S. First Corps area in Korea."

Aircraft Strike Talks Halted

No Progress Reported At North American Co.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — North American Aviation and United Auto Workers officials have abandoned temporarily their efforts to reach an agreement on wages.

Another negotiations session yesterday was unproductive. There are more than 30,000 North American workers on strike in the Los Angeles, Fresno, Calif., and Columbus, Ohio, plants. They have been out since Oct. 23.

Company officials said that nearly 6,000 workers or "about 18 per cent of those who answered a CIO—UAW strike call," are back to work. Union leaders denied it.

"Instead of yielding to the union demands under strike pressure we will continue to use every lawful means to get the plants back into full production at the earliest possible date," said a company statement. "We will be glad to meet jointly with the union any time the conciliator feels there is reason to believe progress toward an agreement can be made."

Said John Allard, west coast representative of the UAW's aircraft department:

"The North American Aviation workers are not trying to blaze new collective bargaining trails. They seek nothing which has not already been gained by other workers in the industry who are members of the UAW—CIO."

Douglas Aircraft Co.'s 14,000 workers at the El Segundo plant yesterday signed a new contract calling for wage increases of five cents an hour and fringe benefits retroactive to Oct. 19. Under its terms, 3,500 of the hourly paid workers will be advanced to a higher labor grade, giving them five to six-cent hourly wage increases on top of the blanket increase.

Logan Man Heads New Postal District

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—J. M. Risley, a native of Logan, has been named chief of a new Post Office district headquarters here. The new office is part of a tri-state program to slash red tape from postal operations.

Under the new program Cincinnati will serve as regional headquarters for Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky. Columbus will be one of nine district offices with other Ohio district offices in Cleveland, Toledo and Cincinnati. Ohio postmasters will in the future make all reports to district offices.

Risley, 59, in postal service since 1914, comes from Raleigh, N. C., where he served as postal inspector.

Delaware County Nears Polio Foundation Goal

Special to The Star

DELAWARE — Delaware County was well on its way to the top of its $10,000 goal for the establishment of the Mignett Springs Polio Rehabilitation Center when $2,400 was added this week to the fund at the end of a two-day Grange auction at the fairgrounds.

The auction returns brought the county fund to over $9,000. Chairman of the county fund, Donald Jones, said that additional individual contributions and a few benefit card parties should put Delaware County over its goal.

Eleven Granges of the county sponsored the auction.

Rotarians Hear Family Service Plan Discussed

Mrs. Doris C. Maxwell, executive secretary of the Family Services Society, discussed social work which is done through the Society when she spoke at the Marion Rotary Club weekly luncheon meeting Tuesday at Hotel Harding.

Born in Toledo, Mrs. Maxwell is a graduate of Toledo University, New York School of Social Work and of Western Reserve School of Applied Social Science.

She gave the historical background of the Family Service Society, a part of the Red Feather Agency, stating that it was organized April 18, 1952. Since that time, 200 cases have been brought to its attention, 75 per cent of which were successful, Mrs. Maxwell reported.

"The agency sometimes goes into the home if the situation requires it to do so," Mrs. Maxwell told her audience. She added, however, that usually this practice does not work out for the best because of the confusion arising from problems of the home.

Mrs. Maxwell illustrated her remarks with case studies.

A visiting Rotarian was George F. Leatherman of Findlay. Guests included William Strickland and George Holton of Columbus, and William Ketchum of Lindhurst, O.

Crawford County Airman Charged in Theft at Air Base

PEORIA, Ill. (AP)—Airman 2. C. Ramon Smith, 19, of Chatfield, Ohio (Crawford County), was charged here yesterday with receiving and possessing government property.

He is accused of trying to sell narcotics stolen from Charute Air Force Base. Arrested with Smith was Airman 2. C. Eugene Amack, 26, of Peoria, who was also charged. Smith's brother, 15, was also held.

Police said a shoe box containing the drugs was found in Smith's car. They said Smith admitted taking the drugs from a crash ambulance at the base 10 months ago.

CONDITION IMPROVES

The condition of Edwin S. Price of 339 Blaine Ave., in White Cross Hospital in Columbus, was reported today by the family as "good." He was admitted to the hospital Saturday for medical attention. It was reported incorrectly in Tuesday night's Star that Mrs. Price was the one admitted to the hospital.

Mass of Cool Air Moving Eastward

Cool, crisp weather, with some wet spots, prevailed over wide areas of the nation today.

Rain continued during the night in Pacific Northwest areas and along the coastal regions of the southeast Atlantic states. Light rain and rain mixed with snow fell in the northern Great Lakes region.

A new surge of cool air moved south and eastward from the northern plains. Temperatures were freezing over northern areas from the Rockies to the Appalachians but the cold air dipped as far south as Kentucky with a low of 20 at Corbin, Ky., early today. It was 19 in Elkins, W. Va., 20 in Philipsburg, Pa., and 13 in Fraser, Colo.

Readings were around seasonal levels in most parts of the country.

St. Paul's Church Aid Society Elects Officers

Election of officers for the new year was held when the Ladies Aid and Missionary Society of St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Richland Township met Thursday, Nov. 5, with Mrs. John Leyer, near Marion.

Mrs. William Miller was elected president; Mrs. Reed Fetter, vice president; Mrs. Ralph Laucher, secretary; Mrs. Raymond Seas treasurer; Mrs. Ralph Hough, pianist.

Scripture and prayer by Mrs. Harley Mayers opened the meeting, and Mrs. Leroy Fetter gave the topic, "The Way of Love To Me In My Christian Living." Rev. Wilbur Budke, pastor of the church, presented the Bible study.

It was decided by the society to give $15 to the aged pastors' wives and widows fund, and $23 to Mexican missions for Christmas. Instead of having a gift exchange among the members, the group will contribute miscellaneous articles to be sent to mission stations. Bible verses and The Lord's Prayer by the members closed the meeting. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Guests were Mrs. Onna Lust, Patty Fetter, Marilyn Laucher, Charlene Hoch and Doug Laucher.

BAREFOOT BOY

HANOVER, N. H. (UP)—Quarterback Billy Beagle of Danville, Pa., specializes for Dartmouth as a barefooted kicker. His unshod kicks travel 65 yards or more. He wears a specially zippered shoe easily removed.

The United States has a larger proportion of widows today than in the past because the average length of the life of women has been increasing faster than that of men.

These Days

By George Sokolsky

Like most doting husbands, I like to buy little thises and thats to make household duties lighter. Usually the gifts are unwelcomed and the children say that anything that did not exist in the 1890's produces only a frown. They, of course, are moderns in the sense that one should never do with one's hands what can be done by a machine.

SOKOLSKY

The argument of the lady runs in this fashion:

The gadgets are invented by males who never have to use them. The male animal will manufacture a set of bunks for small children which requires mother to climb a ladder to make up the upper bunk.

WHAT IS SHE, a pullman porter? And how efficiently can she turn a mattress standing on a ladder?

Of take a dish-washing machine on our farm! Where do we get the water? A housewife knows how to use water out of a faucet, to be thrifty about water -- but the machine knows from nothing! Did the male inventor ever think about a water shortage?

Or, take this mixer you bought me. It's beautiful. It is an ornament. It can do wonders. But who does the cleaning?

It's like a cutter you bought me that has been lying on a shelf for a year or two. Sure, it cuts salami into neat, thin slices, but after each cutting I have to take it apart and clean it.

That takes about half an hour. To wash and dry a good, old-fashioned knife takes a fraction of a minute.

SO, I GOT licked by the argument but I still insist that I like a tie rack I have which makes everything look spiffy, although it is true that when I shut the cupboard door in haste, some of the ties jump off the rack and find their way to the floor.

Is it the ties' fault that nobody ever taught me not to bang doors?

Up on the farm, I specialize in kitchen utensils, particularly for outdoor cooking. When I read the ads or see something in a hardware store, I buy it.

One of the curiosities of this escapist age is that men like to proclaim their genius as cooks. Most wives in their hearts really hate to have their husbands cook, not out of jealousy, but because the male will not clean up.

You can say what you please, but soap and water offer no delight to the male.

SO AFTER all the gadgets are used, the women folk have to clean up. It's only fair. I have labored for hours preparing a fine sauce for the steak, rubbing liquid garlic into the chastened meat, sprinkling marjoram and mustard upon it, cutting onions and potatoes for a Layonnaise, fixing the fire with slabs of hickory which have been soaked for hours to smoke perfectly.

I stand over the hot fire: why wouldn't the women do the cleaning?

The only trouble is that the tray in which I cook the potatoes and onions, flavored with salt, pepper, paprika and celery salt and done in chicken fat, is a wonderful cast-iron gadget that is beautiful to behold but weighs about a million pounds and really should be washed outdoors with a hose.

Outdoors we only have cold water. So, after it cools off, we lug it into the house and the girls wrestle with it.

MY SON AND I have made a recommendation that we wipe the tray with newspapers and leave it like that. I announced pontifically that in China a good cook never worries about the outside of pots. It's the food that matters. And I tell tales of glorious eating under unbelievable conditions.

That's the trouble: my narrative becomes so gruesome that the old girl wants to wash everything in sight, including me.

So the little trickeries accumulate. I have special devices for cooking hot dogs, but the children like them cooked plain; and we have fanciful prongs for corn, but it seems as though everybody uses the good, old fingers.

A gadget comes into the house, is used once or twice, fails to please, and is put away.

IT IS LIKE a cloth I bought the other day which is supposed to be wonderful on dogs. It contains chlorophyll. So I waited for a rainy day, took the dog out for a walk in the rain, came home, got the cloth out of a cellophane packet, wiped the dog and the dog remained wet.

The cloth was wet, too; but the dog was wetter. I think I'll send the cloth to the inventor of the chlorophyll rage, the philosopher Kettering of General Motors.

Did you see the latest? It is called "Cut-a-Pack." It's a container in which a king-size cigarette is cut in half while in the pack, so that if you want two, puffs, you don't need to smoke a whole cigarette. Personally, I smoke pipes and cigars.

(King Features Syndicate)

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

PITTSBURGH

They're giving a new twist to an old technique on the strike front. The dreaded "general strike," which hasn't been used anywhere since British labor forced a switch in government policy back in 1926, will be used in this country, in miniature, to paralyze huge plants and even selected areas.

RIESEL

Here's how it's developing behind the scenes. Few outside labor have paid much attention to the AFL and CIO peace talks. These have centered chiefly around special pacts in which each side pledges to stop raiding the other's territory. Powerful union chiefs who have battled each other for decades are now cooperating.

All that remains is for the CIO on the topmost level, to ratify such a pact with the AFL. This will be done at the CIO convention this week.

ACTUALLY these "no raiding" pacts mean that the unions will not only cease cutting in on each other but will also cooperate in strikes. Thus, a struck plant will be caught in a pincer.

The CIO is usually inside the factory, be it steel, electronic or auto. It's on the productive end. The AFL is the outside force — primarily on the distribution end.

Therefore, wherever a peace pact has been signed a plant can be completely paralyzed during a stoppage. It will not be able even to move the products already made and lying in inventory — which, in the past have often brought income even during a walkout.

THIS PINCER technique is being planned because the union chiefs believe they have finally reached the end of the automatic wage spiral. Strikes are getting tougher to win. Mediation services are calling frantically for more mediators every where I've been on this mid-west trip.

Layoffs are reported everywhere. Not enough joblessness to hurt our general prosperity, but it hurts locally — for the layoffs are coming in batches of 300 to 3,000 at refrigerator, aircraft, auto, freezer, lumber, textile, farm implement and machine plants.

Everywhere there are predictions that 1954 will see a record strike wave.

CIO'S POLITICAL leaders are jubilant. They worked closely with Governor - elect Robert Meyner in New Jersey and he feels they helped him topple the 10 - year Republican hold on that state.

CIO chief Walter Reuther now believes he can link the Political Action Committee to farmers' groups and launch a workers' and farmers' political revolt against President Eisenhower at the CIO convention in Cleveland.

One CIO report reveals that its organizers have been out among the farmers for months.

"North, south, east, west, CIO state and local councils have been going to the fairs these recent autumn weeks," said the CIO publicists the other day.

They revealed that CIO had booths and literature at fairs in Topeka, Kan.; Jackson, Miss.; Reading, Pa.; Atlanta, Ga.; and in Kentucky; "and a host of other communities."

MORE AND MORE world labor leaders are becoming angered over the hoax which the Moral Rearmament organization has on some of its people.

Last week, top CIO chiefs handed their executive vice president, John Riffe, an ultimatum — he must quit the organization which sets up a competing "religion" to the great faiths of the world or leave his CIO post. Riffe, one of the most important Moral Rearmament adherents in the U. S., chose the CIO.

The world's labor leaders, including those in the Catholic trade unions abroad, have been openly suspicious of the vast funds being spent across the globe by that organization. . .

Dave Beck, head of the world's largest union, the Teamsters Brotherhood, has just urged his locals to solicit "government investigations" of their activities.

Recognizing that there has been mob infiltration of the juicy insurance field — yielding millions of dollars in premiums to swiftly organized companies which insure millions of union members in big blocs — Beck also urged the locals to probe the insurance companies and brokerage agencies.

"Scrutinize the conduct of your local unions," he warned. "The recent race tracks expose and the waterfront probe indicate that we must be alert to guard against those who would attach themselves as leeches on the body of organized labor and take dishonestly, to the discredit of organized labor as a whole."

THEN BECK became the first of the major labor leaders to say frankly, "The AFL and the leadership of the affiliated International Unions must accept the responsibility of cleaning up where rackets are found."

What sense is there in exposures if a union's rank and file goes right into the ballot booth and votes the old officers into power?

The rank and file membership must now bear the responsibility for the pro - Communist leadership of the strategic Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers' Union.

Its leaders, some of whom have refused under oath before congressional committees to deny links to the Soviet apparatus, were overwhelmingly re-elected in a nation-heart of the Western Hemisphere's most strategic atomic metal and smelter fields, but it also has a dues income of over $6,000,000 in the past eight years.

What excuse can this group of 100,000 American workers possibly give for re-electing men who have such pro - Soviet records in our Congressional probers' books?

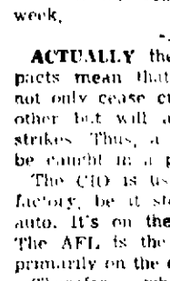
Case of Creeps

By Laura Hobson

Good old New York City had a new election gimmick sprung on it by the events leading up to Nov. 3, and I don't mind telling you it gave me the creeps. And I don't get the creeps easy.



HOBSON

The upshot of it was the candidate who came in almost 200,000 votes behind one a pearl for the job of mayor and about half a million votes behind Robert F. Wagner who acquired it. This was the honorable Rudolph Halley, and the gimmick was a much advertised fifteen minute TV program to show secret movies of bigtime bookies making and taking cash pay-offs in front of a bar and grill on Broadway near Fifty - First Street.

THE FILMS had been shot by concealed cameras with telescopic lenses just for this program, the Hon. Rudolph Halley explained.

The Hon. because he's president of the city council.

They were silent movies but the Hon. Mr. Halley made talkies by supplying a running commentary of his own in which he named names and said they were bookies.

Watching and listening, I had no doubt that the Hon. Mr. Halley is too careful to make any mistakes in identification; I had no doubt these characters were bookies; I was sure that when one guy put a hand in his pocket and then took it out and offered something to another guy, he was actually making a cash-pay-off, as the Hon. Mr. Halley said he was, though I must say that on a 17-inch screen, it could just as well have been a package of chiclets he was passing, or a hot pastrami sandwich from the restaurant right behind him.

WHAT GAVE me the creeps was that evidence obtained by secret cameras should be destined not for the police department, not for the district attorney, not for the FBI but for maybe a couple million television viewers whom the Hon. Mr. Halley wanted to persuade to vote for him.

How far do you go to try to get elected anyway?

Suppose it suited a candidate in your home town, some time or other, to take telescopic secret films of the doings in front of Jonesy's bar, and by accident that was just the off Saturday night you came out a touch glazed, at the side of a slick blond whose hush aid had stayed behind a minute to pay the check.

Then suppose it suited that candidate to flash his pictures on TV screens for your whole community to take a gander at.

Would you figure that candidate was going too far?

NOW IT'S TRUE that the Hon. Mr. Halley said to remember that some innocent passers-by would appear on the TV screen along with the cash-paying and cash-receiving bookies, and that unless he actually said somebody was a bookie, it wouldn't be a bookie or any other form of low life.

But let's say my Uncle Moe, who's a professor of Latin at the university, passed along Broadway at Fifty-First that night and got himself right on Channel 5 with the Hon. Mr. Halley's little crowd of boys.

How many times in the next two years do you think my poor old Uncle Moe is going to have to explain to some wise-cracking student or worrying college trustee that he was only going up the street to the Capitol Theater to see "From Here To Eternity?"

Maybe I'm hipped on possible invasions of a citizen's privacy, maybe I'm nuts to think even criminals have the right to be tried in the courts, facing the evidence against them under the control of our laws and according to proper procedure.

MAYBE I'M splitting hairs to remember that in 1952 when the then plain Mr. Halley was on the Kefauver Crime Committee, the TV recordings of the Costello business was a mighty different deal—not being a candidate's privately engineered show at all, but a report to the nation of an official Senate investigation of graft and corruption.

Anyway I sure got the creeps that night in front of my TV set.

I decided then and there not to risk a meal in any Broadway Resturant until after Election Day and to stall on "From Here To Eternity" too, just in case those hidden cameras were going to keep on grinding more evidence into their greedy stomachs for more public shows.

And Mr. Halley, I have news for you. Of all the votes that went to the other two candidates when the chips were down last week, at least one went over during your big set with the secret cameras. Guess whose.

Under law, Smith is liable to a fine, a county jail sentence of six months or confinement in the penitentiary at he discretion of the court.

U.N. Support Seen on Korea Atrocity Probe

UNITED NATIONS N Y (AP)—U S official estimated they have more than enough votes lined up to win U N General Assembly approval today for a full airing of American charges of Red atrocities in Korea

Chief U S Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr was slated to call on the 60 nation Assembly to put the atrocity item on its agenda as recommended last week by the Steering Committee

A source close to the Americans said an informal poll of the delegates indicates the only opposition would be from the five nation Soviet bloc with a few abstentions from the Arab Asian nations

Lodge last fall introduced the charges before the U N two weeks ago after a defector quoted U S Army reports claiming that some 30 000 persons including more than 6 000 Americans—were killed by torture or starvation at the hands of their Red captors in Korea

A vote could be delayed to American hesitancy to embroil the U N in the cold war charges but most observers expected to have one results by next week

At last week's session the Assembly by a vote of 46 to 5 with 8 abstentions condemned atrocities against prisoners by perpetrators

Braised Ox Joints With Noodles Are Delicious

For a fine tasting economy dinner, serve braised ox joints with noodles, carrots and green beans. Ox joints are one of the thriftier cuts which homemakers are using today.

Here's an interesting recipe for braised ox joints.

Have meatman cut 2 ox tails into 2-inch pieces. Roll in flour. In a Dutch oven or large heavy pan, brown ox joints in a little hot fat. Add 2 medium onions, sliced, 2 teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, ½ teaspoon celery salt, 1 bay leaf, 4 cloves, 1 cup canned tomatoes, 1 cup water. Cover and cook slowly 3 to 4 hours or until meat separates easily from the bone. Add more water as necessary during cooking. Remove meat to a platter to keep warm. Thicken gravy with a flour and water paste. Season to taste. Serve ox joints on buttered noodles with gravy on the side. Serve 4.

Gen. Ridgway Speaks At Meeting in Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway spoke out last night against "any premature withdrawal or ill-advised weakening" of U. S. Army strength overseas.

Such a reduction would be a "grievous blow to freedom," the Army's chief of staff declared in a pointed reference to recent high-level suggestions that new weapons and new strategies might eventually lessen the role and strength of the Army around the world.

Ridgway spoke to the American Ordnance Assn.

BUYS FIRE ENGINE

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP)—The Santa Fe Railway has sold its 30-year-old fire engine to the James Melton Autorama in Florida.

"It was felt," the company said, "that we could rely on the city fire department."

Indian GI, Hero Of Iwo Jima Goes Back to His Home

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Pima Indian Ira Hayes, who helped raise the American flag on war-torn Iwo Jima, has gone back to his family on the Bapschule, Ariz., reservation.

Hayes, who was arrested twice this month for drunkenness, was sentenced yesterday to pay a $20 fine or serve four days in jail, but Judge Mark Brandler suspended the sentence and directed that the former Marine be put aboard a bus for Arizona.

Hayes, arrested recently in Chicago on a drunk charge, came to California when Mrs. Elizabeth Martin, divorced wife of comedian Dean Martin, heard of his plight and hired him as a chauffeur.

Chillicothe Official Commends OWU

Special to The Star

DELAWARE — Dr. Ronald Wolfe, chief psychologist at the U. S. Veterans' Hospital, Chillicothe, commended Ohio Wesleyan students during an address here Monday for their help in the rehabilitation program at the Chillicothe hospital.

Dr. Wolfe pointed out that nine years ago the doctors at the hospital were even uneasy when Ohio Wesleyan coeds went to Chillicothe to help in rehabilitating veterans because it was an entirely new therapeutic approach to the recreational problem. The program was carried on by the Wesleyan Red Cross College unit under the supervision of the county Red Cross chapter.

"A lot of our patients are so inhibited they are afraid to do anything," he said. "You students, by coming down and acting natural, help them break down the barriers." "This," he concluded, "helps create a miracle."

Bomber Plant At Willow Run Sold by Kaiser

62-Acre Property Purchased by GM At $26 Million Figure

DETROIT (AP)—General Motors now owns the 62-acre Willow Run former bomber plant.

The world's biggest auto maker purchased the property yesterday from Kaiser Motors for 26 million dollars. Kaiser will move all its operations to Toledo, Ohio.

General Motors announced it will use the property to continue manufacture and assembly of hydramatic transmissions. What further use may be made of the property was not disclosed.

The purchase probably means GM will not rebuild the Detroit Transmission Division plant, destroyed by fire at Livonia, Mich., last August. GM's president, Harlow H. Curtice said no plans have been made at present to rebuild the Livonia facility.

In taking over the Willow Run plant, GM acquires a plant Kaiser-Frazer purchased from the government for 15 million dollars some five years ago.

The sale to GM was made with the sanction of the Reconstruction Finance Corp. To effect it, Kaiser will turn over to the RFC the proceeds obtained from GM plus $613,000 and reduce its indebtedness to the government to $18,640,000.

This sum, Edgar F. Kaiser, president of Kaiser Motors said, will then represent the total indebtedness of the Kaiser interests to the government. The indebtedness at one time amounted to $74,789,843.

Kaiser, meanwhile will move production of all its Kaiser and Henry J model cars to the Willys Motors, Inc., plant in Toledo. Kaiser purchased Willys last spring for 62 million dollars.

Prospect Junior Class To Present Play Friday

"Good Night Ladies" is the title of the play to be given Friday night by the Junior class of the Prospect High School. The play will be presented at 8 o'clock in the school auditorium.

The play concerns the Raleigh youths who must turn their home into a girls' dormitory in order to save it from foreclosure. The big problem arises when their aunts, who are to act as chaperones, fail to arrive.

Taking part are Joyce Brewer, Kay Buckingham, Ilah Hecker, Shirley Laughorn, Judi Long, Lois Roller, Alma Shepherd, Bob Andersen, Jack DeLauder, Bob Emery, Roger Landon and Ernest Sparks. Assisting with the show are Phyllis Betz, Joan Milligan, Kathleen Reidling, Catherine Wolf, Bud Birchfield, Dick Hansen, Lowell Redmon and Murray Verity.

ODD FISH

GLOUCESTER, Mass. (UP) — Seafarers here are still puzzled as to what it was that got caught in the mackerel nets of Ralph Nelson's fishing boat Girlie. Weighing nearly a ton, the catch was identified by some as a black fish and by others as a shark. But Nelson isn't sure either identification is correct.

Marion Teams Favored To Win Road Grid Finales

Harding Invades Sandusky, St. Mary Meets Elm Valley

Harding and St. Mary are favored to win Friday night when they take to the road for their season finales against teams whose records are below the break-even point.

Harding goes after its seventh win against two losses by facing a hapless Sandusky squad that has won two and tied one in eight outings.

St. Mary will be after its seventh win in eight starts when it meets an Elm Valley team that has a 3-4 season record. Already assured of a tie for the Mid-Ohio championship, the Irish can gain possession of the title with a victory.

The Sandusky aggregation which meets Harding is offensively weak, scoring only five touchdowns so far this season. The team got off to a bad start when it opened the season by letting Cleveland Rhodes run wild for a 41-0 win.

Since then Sandusky has beaten only Elyria 14-0 and East Liverpool 14-6, tied Findlay 0-0, and bowed to Toledo DeVilbiss 12-0, Fremont 19-7, Lorain 31-0 and Mansfield 28-0.

The DeVilbiss loss was the most damaging to Sandusky for then the Blue Streaks lost two outstanding backs—third string all-stater Alphus White and Tailback Dick DeHaven, son of Coach Jeff DeHaven. Both were knocked out for the season when they were clipped and received serious knee injuries.

DeHaven's probable starting line up has a heavy weight advantage on the Prexies. The Sandusky squad averages 179 in the line and 153 in the backfield. Harding's offense has a line average of 157 and a backfield average of 151 for a team total of 155.

The Blue Streak tentative starting eleven has Bob Lang, 160, and Buck Laird, 184, on the ends; Gary Clark, 175, and six-foot-one Elhson Kelley, 215, at the tackles; Dave Neberthall, 150, and Charlie Snowder, 180, at the guard spots, and LeRoy Hickley, 190, at center.

In the backfield it will probably be John Piper, 145, quarterbacking, Dick Kiser, 165, at full, and Tom Murray, 150, and Bill Harple, 150, in the halfback slots.

DeHaven uses just about the same crew for offense and defense.

Over at Ashley St. Mary will be enjoying a slight weight advantage over Elm Valley. The Irish average about 163 in the line against Elm Valley's 157. The backfields are about equal at 154, but St. Mary holds an over-all advantage 159-158.

Coach Ken Paul of Elm Valley will probably go along with all-stater Ron Campbell, 150, and John Humes, 150, on the ends; Lee Goodman, 150, and John Stein, 180, at the tackles; Dick Masters, 155, and Phil Ingmire, 155, at the guards, and Eugene Borden, 160, at center.

Running in the Aces' backfield will be Quarterback Walt Borchers, 160, Fullback Fred Reid, 160; and Bob Currans, 145, and Ed VanAusdle, 150, at the halves.

Elm Valley's record includes wins over Johnstown 21-13, Big Walnut 20-0 and Mt. Gilead 12-6. The Aces have bowed to Richwood 12-0, Fredericktown 18-13, Cardington 26-20 and Utica 7-0.

Johnny Lattner Draws Nod as Back of Week

NEW YORK (AP)—Almost without argument, Notre Dame's All America Johnny Lattner gets this week's call as Associated Press Back of the Week for his performance against Pennsylvania last Saturday.

A number of other good runners and passers, including Stanford's Bob Garrett, Jimmy Wade of Tennessee, Larry Grigg of Oklahoma and Bobby Cavazos of Texas Tech, were tabbed for standout performances Saturday. But none could match Lattner.

Lattner's one-man job made the difference between a victory for the nation's No. 1 college team and a shocking upset. And he did it before a huge crowd in a game on which national attention had been focused even before the kickoff.

The upset-geared Penn team scored first, then Johnny took charge. He carried back the next kickoff 92 yards on a beautiful run that made full use of his interference for the tying touchdown. He engineered another Notre Dame score, first by running back a punt 32 yards and then by snatching a pass out of the hands of two Penn defenders. And he raced 56 yards with another kickoff to set up a third score.

Then, with Penn raging back in the second half and threatening to take the game, it was Lattner who snatched a pass right out of Bob Felver's hands on to goal line to save Notre Dame's eight-point margin.

Others named by sports writers and broadcasters included: George Shaw, Oregon; Dicky Moegle, Rice; Charley Brewer, Texas; Paul Larson, California; Leroy Bolden, Michigan State; Paul Giel, Minnesota; Homer Smith, Princeton, Dick Lalla, Colgate; Bill Bowman, William and Mary; and Eddie West, North Carolina State.

CAGE OFFICIALS MEET

A regular meeting of the Mid-Ohio Officials Association will be held tonight at 7:30 at the YMCA. Basketball rules and situations will be discussed. Officers of the officials organization are Floyd Gehres, president; Clyde Bell, vice president; and Roy Everly, secretary-treasurer.

'Not Employed' Reynolds Advises Country Club Set

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Allie Reynolds, New York Yankees' pitcher whose baseball future is doubtful, set members of the Hillcrest Golf and Country Club to buzzing last night.

At a meeting of charter members of the new club, each was asked to introduce himself and state his occupation.

When it came to the super chief, who has said a back injury may already have ended his pitching career, he rose and spoke out. "I'm Allie Reynolds, unemployed."

SHORT SPORTS

By John Short

Mal Mackey, Fremont Ross coach, unleashed a bitter tirade after his return to Fremont with a 32-14 win over Harding Friday night.

SHORT

Checking his squad after the hard-fought battle, Mackey reported the team was banged up. He did everything but charge deliberate roughness by the Presidents.

In a talk to Al Coxon, Fremont sports writer, Mal was bitter despite the Buckeye League title for the Ross forces. Coxon quotes Mackey as saying, "Marion was out to get us, and they did a good job. They let us have it right and left."

"This is just what I was afraid of. We're hurt. Our kids were taking a beating in there. They were piling on and batting our boys in the face and the officials never called it. If we'd played a game like that everyone would be up in arms and call it dirty football."

The two boys bringing the moans from Mackey are Guard Bill Amor and Charley Black, top-flight fullback. Both were injured in the Harding game.

Before Mal gets too far gone and begins pulling out his hair we'd like to point out that the Harding gridders didn't exactly look as though they had been playing footsie at the game's conclusion.

Three of Pete Howison's charges came out of the battle showing terrific signs of wear. Bob Hamor and Freddie Price are both slowed by back trouble developed in the game. Whitey Clinger suffered a banged up leg and the whole squad is described by Pete as being 'pretty well banged up.'

Before Mal starts casting those aspersions around too freely he should drop in at the Harding camp. Many more like the Fremont tussle and Howison will find himself without seven men to build a line.

GOING STRONG. In the latest figures released today by the International Hockey League office, Gordie Vajprava is the only member of the Marion Barons listed. The speedy center is tied with Bill Pawchuk of the Cincinnati Mohawks with two hat tricks each for the season. Gordie turned in both of his three-goal performances on the coliseum rink.

Toledo's 'Lightening Line' dominates the scoring race. All three members, Dick Pontarollo, John Kovich and Roy Hammond, are in the race. Pontarollo is second in the league with a total of 22 points made on 12 goals and 10 assists. His dozen goals tops the league.

Meeker Cagers In Second Win

Meeker racked up its second win of the young basketball season Tuesday night, dumping Harpster 59-49 on the Meeker floor.

Walker Huffman's charges jumped into a 9-5 lead at the quarter mark and by halftime had built up a 22-14 cushion.

Ron Newland sparked the Meeker attack with a 22-point outburst. Walcutt was high for the losers with 20. The Meeker squad will play host to Ridgway for a game slated Friday night.

In the reserve game, the Meeker team rolled to a 33-24 victory. Ned Hudnall was the big gun with eight markers. The Meeker junior high school squad made it a clean sweep for the home forces with a hard-earned 33-31 win over the Harpster juniors.

GAME MOVED UP

DETROIT (AP)—The Green Bay-Detroit football game Thanksgiving Day will start at 11 a. m., EST, instead of noon as originally scheduled, The National Football League game is to be telecast nationally, except in Michigan and nearby Toledo, Ohio.

The first Michigan State football team to play in Macklin Field Stadium was the 1923 Spartan eleven. It was coached by Ralph Y. Young, now the school's athletic director.

Indians Active During Winter Baseball Play

CLEVELAND (AP)—Twelve Cleveland Indians—more than ever before—are playing winter league baseball this year.

Coach Red Kress of the Tribe is managing Gavilanes in the Venezuelan League and has on his roster pitchers Bob Chalkes, Sam Jones and Bill Upton and outfielders Jim Lemon and Dave Pope. Except for Upton, all of these players were with the Indians briefly last spring before being sent to the Indianapolis farm club of the American Association.

Infielders Bob Avila, Bill Glynn and Owen Friend are performing for Mexico City in the Mexican League, and outfielder Al Smith and pitcher Jose Santiago are with Ponce in the Puerto Rican League.

The remaining two players on south-of-the-border diamonds are first baseman Rocky Nelson and outfielder Galeard Wade.

General Manager Hank Greenberg of the Indians used to frown upon his players using their baseball talents in the off - season. He worried lest they be hurt and their value impaired for the club in the American League pennant race. Now he says:

"I've changed my mind about winter ball for several reasons. One, of course, is money. If they can pick up a few bucks playing ball in the off-season, then let 'em go ahead.

"But the main reason is the experience might prove helpful."

Bratton Insists Jaw No Target For Cuban Kid

CHICAGO (AP)—Johnny Bratton's three big breaks in boxing were anything but.

They were jaw fractures that three times destroyed fight careers he had built to the peak. Each time, broken financially by inactivity and medical expenses, he had to stoop and build anew.

Now he is at the crest of his third comeback, ready to take on Kid Gavilan for the world's middleweight championship Friday in a nationally televised bout at Chicago Stadium.

Gavilan was the third man to break Bratton's jaw. He did it in the first round of their championship fight in New York May 18, 1951. Johnny also broke a bone in his right hand in the first round. Although he stayed with the Cuban Kid the entire 15-round distance, he lost the NBA welter crown he had taken over two months earlier.

Bratton's two previous fractures were handed out by Beau Jack, in 1948, and by Ike Williams, in 1950.

But the Chicago "Brat" says broken jaws are a thing of the past. "I don't have to worry about it any more," he says, "It's as strong as ever."

Hymie Wallman, Bratton's manager, said his fighter's jawbone became susceptible to fractures because of a couple of bad wisdom teeth and improper diet.

Since the last break, Bratton has had the offending teeth removed and consumes two quarts of milk a day and plenty of vegetables to strengthen his bone structure.

Plans Kept Secret

Badger Coach Says Illinois Backfield Will Be Stopped

CHICAGO (AP) — Ivy Williamson, Wisconsin football coach, has the best secret in the Big Ten.

"It's not impossible to stop Caroline and Bates of Illinois," he said today. "It's just difficult."

Williamson would not elaborate on how the two Illinois sophomore halfbacks, J. C. Caroline and Mickey Bates, can be stopped. He's keeping this strictly to himself.

If Wisconsin can collar the pair Saturday at Madison, Wis., the Badgers should defeat Illinois and scramble the Big Ten title chase and Rose Bowl outlook.

The game promises to be unbeaten Illinois' most risky assignment of the season. Wisconsin, ineligible to return to the Rose Bowl, has been defeated only once in a drive for the conference crown.

Coach Ray Eliot of Illinois said Rose Bowl talk is banned for his team and then proceeded to wax poetic over Wisconsin.

"Wisconsin is one of the finest teams in the country," he said. "It has two wonderful fullbacks (Alan Ameche and Chuck Thomas) four fine halfbacks (Jerry Witt, Harland Carl, Bob Gingrass and Clary Bratt); a terrific quarterback (Jim Miller), and a beautifully moving line."

If Williamson can gear the Badgers to stop Caroline and Bates he will be the first Big Ten coach to do it this year. They have combined for 1,579 rushing yards. Bates has scored 11 touchdowns, two short of a school record first set by Red Grange in 1923.

Caroline as accounted for 1,354 yards in all phases - rushing, kickoff and punt returns, pass interceptions and receptions. This overshadows Grange's unofficial record of 1,260 set 30 years ago.

Morral Cage Crew Wins Opener 70-50

Morral's Wildcats went on a scoring spree in the final period last night to notch an easy win over Marseilles in its cage opener. The 70-50 win was the 20th straight for Morral on its home floor.

The teams locked up in a bitter battle for the first half. Marseilles held a 14-12 lead at the end of the first quarter but Morral grabbed the lead for keeps in the second. The home team held a 28-27 lead at the half.

An 18-point spurt in the third stanza clinched the outcome. The winners poured 24 markers through the hoop in the closing period.

John Craycraft hooked in 23 points to pace the winners. Clair Hensel added 19. Junior Bell notched 14 and Ted Murphy had 10. Charles Rice scored four. Sherm McKinnis and Redding were high for the losers with 15 each.

The Morral reserves notched a 38-35 win in their game. John Neal and Bob Wilson each scored 13 to lead the attack. The winners held a 36-24 lead at the start of the final quarter and barely managed to choke off a Marseilles rally.

MORRAL
Hensel 6, 7, 19; Rice 0, 4, 4; Craycraft 10, 3, 23; Bell 6, 2, 14; Murphy 4, 2, 10.

MARSEILLES

Willie Troy Picked In Television Bout

WASHINGTON (AP)—Willie Troy meets Randy Sandy here tonight in a nationally televised 10-round middleweight bout and no matter how you look at it, Al Weill stands to win.

Weill, manager of heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano, also manages the 22-year-old Willie Troy, who has been guaranteed a crack at middle weight champion Bobo Olson if he can defeat Sandy, as he is favored to do.

Even if Sandy wins, however Weill still has a chance. For Jim Norris, president of the International Boxing Club, says if Sandy wins he'll match him with Ernie Durando of Jersey City. The winner of that fight then would take on Olson. And Weill also manages Durando.

Troy is rated a 7-5 favorite for the fight at Turner's Arena which will be sent out over the nationwide facilities of CBS—TV at 10 p. m. EST.

Carter Defends Crown in Fight Against Savoie

MONTREAL (AP)—There are two Jimmy Carters—Carter the nontitle performer and Carter the lightweight champion of the world. Montreal's Armand Savoie, who beat the over-the-weight fighter, gets a crack at Carter the champion in a 15-round title bout at the forum tonight.

The result is expected to be entirely different this time. Carter, a tight-lipped, dead-panned stalker when his crown is on the line, is a 2½ to 1 and up favorite here to whip the local boy, a rangy, 23 year-old French-Canadian.

The pick here is Carter by a knockout in the 11th round. It takes the 29-year-old New York Negro a little time to warm up his attack.

There will be no broadcast or telecast of the bout.

Savoie's chief claim to fame is the nontitle 10-rounder he won by split decision over Jimmy in this same city Last Feb. 16. Although there are few here who give their hopeful a chance, the fans are being lured by Montreal's first world title fight since Panama Al Brown twice defended his bantam crown 22 years ago. A $60,000 gate is expected.

Savoie (pronounced "Sav-wah") is one of the thin minority who sees a chance of an upset.

"I beat him before and I can beat him again," said the bony-faced dark-haired challenger. "I know his style and he doesn't change. He didn't hurt me before and I know I'm in better condition this time. I trained harder for this fight than any other in my life."

"I hope to win," said Carter modestly. "I never make predictions. He's awkward and strong but I know I can get to him. He's never gone 15 rounds before. And I know I deserved the decision the last time."

Carter couldn't explain just why he looks so dull in nontitle fights (he lost three this year, to Eddie Chavez, Savoie and Johnny Cunningham) and so tigerish in his title scraps, but his manager Willie Ketchum, had a ready answer.

"He just can't get keyed up for 'em," said Willie. "He just ain't the same kind of a fighter. It's like day and night when he trains. He likes that title and really belts them sparring partners around when he's getting ready for one."

Bucks Selected To Win; Writer Names Illinois

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO (AP)—The Midwest football seer, gay and carefree after a clean sweep last weekend, tries another long forward pass with the crystal ball.

Illinois 20, Wisconsin 14—After four straight home games, the unbeaten Illini take their incredible sophomore, defense-defying act of Caroline & Bates on the road. Perhaps Wisconsin's Witt and Carl move as fast as Caroline, but they don't do it as often or as successfully. Like "Horse" Ameche of the Badgers, Mickey Bates is a plunger with quite a kick.

Michigan State 13, Michigan 7—When the chips are down, halfback Leroy Bolden produces for Michigan State. The chips will be down again Saturday in a crucial game with a bitter state rival. The Spartans can shoot the works in their bid for at least a share of the Big Ten title. It's their final conference game of the season. Michigan's Wolverines still have to face another strong rival, Ohio State.

Notre Dame 28, North Carolina 7—It should be a fine opportunity for the Irish to groom reserves for their stretch drive against Iowa, Southern California and Southern Methodist.

Iowa 18, Minnesota 14—Paul Giel has been a whiz at home this season, but Saturday the Gophers play at Iowa City. It's the closing Big Ten game for the Hawkeyes, who have had a much better season than their 2 3 conference record indicates.

Northwestern 21, Indiana 19—A merry battle of Big Ten cellar dwellers. The once-brilliant Wildcat passing attack needs some cranking up, but should perk enough to offset the Hoosier comeback kid, Bobby Robertson.

Ohio State 21, Purdue 7—The Boilermakers' strange campaign has produced six losses and one victory, over the Michigan State team which last Saturday thumped the Buckeyes. Ohio State's other loss was a 41-20 frouncing by Illinois, a blow from which the Bucks never really recovered.

Bill Wambsganss of Cleveland made the only unassisted triple play in World Series history. It occurred in the 1920 Series against the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Purdue's MSC Score Scares Buck Coaches

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—From the record, Saturday's game with Purdue looks like a sure thing to Ohio State football fans, players and coaches.

But there's one statistic that keeps buzzing in the back of Bucks' minds.

That's this score: Purdue 6, Michigan State 0.

That score represents the Boilermakers' only victory. But the Ohio Staters would feel much easier if the win had been chalked up against almost any of the other six teams which beat the Boilermakers.

Missouri beat Purdue 14-7; Notre Dame 37-7, Duke 20-14, Wisconsin 28-19, Illinois 21-0 and Iowa 26-0. Fresh from a 28-13 defeat by Michigan State, Coach Woody Hayes & Co. can't feel too secure against any team that could break the previously all-winning streak of the Spartans.

The only mutual foes Ohio State has played have been Michigan State, Illinois and Wisconsin. The Bucks edged Wisconsin and were trampled by conference-leading Illinois. Michigan State? Nobody can figure that one out.

So, the Bucks aren't cocky even though the Boilermakers' injury list reads like a starting lineup.

Goodrich Co., Ohio Edison Power Plant, Marion Power Shovel Co., American Malleable Casting Co., Isaly Dairy Co., Fairfield Engineering Co., Huber Manufacturing Co., General Telephone Co., General Excavator Co., Commercial Steel Castings Co., Arro Expansion Bolt Co., Alloy Cast Steel Co., McMillen Feed Mills, Inc., and the Osgood Co.

THE ANNUAL BIE day is sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce. A similar day for seniors in the county school system will be arranged in January.

Students Tuesday were shown the workings of the factories by management heads and assigned employees. As they went through the plants, the pupils were given explanations of the function of the various departments.

Many stopped to ask men or women working at machines just what their part is in the organization. In this way, they learned facts which previously were mysteries to them.

AT THE LUNCHEON at the YMCA, the students heard brief talks by Lester L. Dickey, Superintendent of Marion Schools, Cecil Gabler, principal of Harding; Rev. Fr. William J. Spickerman, V.F., pastor of St. Mary; J. H. Walker, chairman of the Manufacturers' Council of the Chamber of Commerce and president of the Fairfield Engineering Co.; and Edgar Barnhart, president of the Chamber of Commerce.

Under the direction of members of the Chamber of Commerce, the tour was divided into five groups [illegible].

Leaders of the groups were James Arnold, Harold Grigsby, John Wissler, Robert Haldeman, Robert Feusemyer, Frank Barton, Jack Hughes, C. L. Roberts, Don Penry, and Paul Shelton.

Students traveled from plant to plant in their own cars, forming a one-day car pool for the occasion. Each group was composed of about 60 Harding seniors and 10 St. Mary students.

Peace Meeting At Wooster Is Rescheduled

Directors Decide on Holding Workshop In Changing Stand

WOOSTER, Ohio (AP)—Wooster's World Peace Workshop—challenged by members of Canton's "Keep America Free Council"—is going to be held Friday, as originally scheduled.

Directors last night reversed an earlier decision to postpone it, saying, "As yet no proof has been provided that any invited participant is not a citizen of the United States in good standing or is a member of the Communist Party. Therefore, there seems to be no good reason why the conference should not be held."

Members of the "Keep America Free Council" had reported that two of the participants may have been connected with possible communist-dominated organizations.

Both the men challenged denied the assertions. They are Shepherd Witman, executive director of the Cleveland Council on World Affairs, and Professor Kermit Eby of the University of Chicago. They counter-charged that the Canton group sought to pressure the workshop and create hysteria.

Howard F. Lowry, College of Wooster president, said, "I think it is a serious thing to cancel out speakers and not give them an opportunity to defend themselves."

Workshop directors, on request, removed from the list of endorsers the names of Rep. Frank T. Bow, Canton Republican, and Marion F. Graven, Wooster Republican Committee chairman. They also relieved other endorsers of responsibility.

President of CBS Quits Fraternity Over Racial Policy

OXFORD, Ohio (AP)—Frank Stanton, president of the Columbia Broadcasting System, has quit his college fraternity after 25 years because, he said, the fraternity's racial policy embarrassed him.

His resignation from Phi Delta Theta was disclosed yesterday in letters received by fraternity headquarters here and to his college newspaper, the Ohio Wesleyan Transcript, at Delaware.

The century-old social group's constitution limits membership to those of the Aryan race.

Chapters at Williams College, Williamstown, Mass., and Amherst have been suspended by the national group because they had pledged Jews.

In his letters, Stanton said he wanted to be embarrassed no longer with discriminatory characteristics.

Fraternity officials declined immediate comment.

2-Foot Cucumber Grown Here Placed on Display

A giant cucumber over two feet in length and weighing almost three pounds is on display in the Gallaher Drug store window on Center St.

Placed there by Mrs. Martha L. Berry of 322 Uncapher Ave., it is 25½ inches long and weighs two pounds, 14 ounces.

The cucumber was the only one that grew to any size on a vine in the yard of Mrs. Berry's home. Most of the buds died and only one other cucumber grew to a normal size. The cucumber had hung from a vine which was wound around a fruit tree in Mrs. Berry's yard and was still growing when it was taken from the vine.

Popcorn and Notre Dame

There has never been anything quite so passionate as the subway alumni of Notre Dame unless possibly it's a Dodger fan. A subway alumnus, as I suppose you all know, is a guy who has never been within 1,000 miles of South Bend but who still feels Notre Dame is his team.

J. CROSBY

Every Saturday, these devout souls journey either to the Century-Marine Theater in the far reaches of Brooklyn or the Century-Prospect Theater in Flushing to watch Notre Dame maul the opposition on large screen theater television.

Notre Dame has been the greatest thing to happen to these theaters since double features. For one thing Saturday afternoon in the movie theater dodge has always been sacred to the small try who pour in at 30 cents a head. For Notre Dame, the management charges $1 for a seat on the main floor and $1.50 for the balcony where you can smoke — and is doing a turnaway business.

AND NOT ONLY is the box office thriving. As any fool knows your movie theater owner is up to his ears in the popcorn and peanuts and soda pop business, which looms larger in his calculations than Ava Gardner these days, and the subway alumni are wonderful popcorn and pop imbibers.

In order to give a kind of football twang to the proceedings, the Century-Marine Theater brought in a caterer to sell hot dogs one weekend. He made more money on food than the theater on theirs so he's never been invited back.

The behavior pattern of a football fan at theater TV has not quite solidified, falling roughly halfway between that of a theater patron and a normal guy at a stadium. The guys yell and cheer just as they would in the stands but you hear a lot more applause, a theater reaction, than you would at a football game.

THAT IRRESISTIBLE but curious impulse which makes everyone leap to his feet on a long run open ies in a theater at about half strength. The subway alumnus will leap to his feet, then suddenly remember where he is and sit down again. When the cheerleaders are going through their gyrations, the theater fan yells along with them — but raggedly and a little self-consciously — where out in a stadium he'd be yelling his lungs out.

There's never the slightest doubt though, which side the crowd's on. They're for Notre Dame and they don't care who knows it. If you'd dropped in on the Notre Dame—Navy game, you'd have heard loud cheers for Navy misplays as well as for Notre Dame's good ones. When Notre Dame did badly—as, for example, a missed point after touchdown the theater was clamorous with silence.

At the end of the first half, as the curtain drew to a close, the announcer declared "It seems to be established that Notre Dame is the No 1 team in the country." One of the fans, going up the aisle, stopped abruptly and bellowed a correction. "Number 1 team in the world!"

THEATERS IN 13 CITIES are now taking the Notre Dame games, all under the auspices of a company called Box Office Television (BOTV, for short) of which Sid Caesar is a vice president. The first game—with Pittsburgh—was a monumental flop. Ten theaters in ten cities took in a total of only $6,000. Then word got around that this was a good thing. The following week receipts jumped $14,000 and they've being going up ever since. And, of course, the popcorn business is terrific.

During the first game, the theater management kept TV on during intermission with interviews and comment. Now they turn it off and draw the curtain so the folks can get at the popcorn machines. Also the theater sells them tickets for the following week.

And this is just the beginning BOTV hopes. The company mistily eyes a future in which they carry, to scores of cities across the land, Olympic tryouts, big fights, Barnum and Bailey's circus, the Globetrotter's basketball team, horse races and college championship basketball games.

And the popcorn industry's mouth fairly drools at the prospect.

Progressive Grangers Plan Exchange of Gifts

It was decided to have a 25 cents Christmas exchange at the next meeting in December at Progressive Grange when Marion County Pomona Grange met Saturday night at Martel.

William Hutchman, master, who presided over the business session, appointed George Bosley Jr. as county youth chairman. A literary program in charge of Mrs. Ralph Williams, lecturer, included the singing of "Jingle Bells" by the group and a reading, "For Country Homes", by Carrol Williams.

Mrs. Walter Fetter, a member of Progressive Grange, gave a talk on her trip to Alaska with members of granges from all over the state recently. Mrs. Grace Strawser, also of Progressive Grange, made the trip. A reading, "My Thanksgiving Memories" was given by Mrs. Harry Dutt of Whetstone Grange and at the close of the meeting, a covered dish supper was served by the host grange.

Eight subordinate granges gave reports of their activities.

Truman Not About To Look Glum for Press Cameraman

NEW YORK (AP)—Former President Truman and a photographer had this exchange at a dinner last night, just a few hours after Truman was subpoenaed by the House Un-American Activities Committee.

The photographer—You are fouling me up. My office told me to get a picture of you looking glum and all you have done is smile.

Truman—You're not going to get a picture of me looking glum. You can tell them I said they should go to hell.

a dinner in his honor given by the alumni of the City College of New

STEVE CANYON

By Milton Caniff

OOH H H' ANVILS!
MIS-TER CANYON, THAT WAS THE MOST HEROIC THING I EVER HEARD OF IN MY ENTIRE LIFE!
OF COURSE COBRA JOHNNY AND HIS THUGS STOLE ALL OUR VALUABLES ANYHOW, BUT YOU TRIED SO HARD TO PROTECT MOTHER AND ME! WE'RE BEHOLDEN TO YOU...
I THINK YOU ACCOMPLISHED YOUR PURPOSE, MR CANYON. THEY DIDN'T SEEM TO NOTICE THAT WE HAD NO PASSPORTS
THEY DO NOT YET REALIZE THEY COULD PROBABLY COLLECT BIG MONEY FROM THE LOCAL GOVERNMENT FOR THE RETURN OF THE FAMILY OF A U.S. OFFICIAL WHICH HAD NOT BEEN ADEQUATELY PROTECTED WHILE ON DUTY HERE..
OH, WHY DON'T I THINK OF THINGS LIKE THAT WHICH WILL IMPRESS MR. CANYON?

A chapel at a window of Napoleon's home on St. Helena Island has two peepholes through which the exiled Emperor could gaze unobserved by sentries assigned to watch his every movement. One he used while standing, the lower one while seated, it's the National Geographic Society.

Seashore sand at Beppu in Japan is black hot to the touch and gives off sulphur fumes. Thousands of people go there to lie for hours, even days, covered by the pulverized volcanic debris which they hope will cure their ailments.

Roughly half of the earth's known uranium ore lies in the Belgian Congo in the fantastic open-pit mine at Shinkolobwe 70 miles northwest of Elisabethville. Shinkolobwe's name was dropped from maps for secrecy's sake during World War II.

Ridges on parts produced for an average aircraft exhaust system must have surfaces smooth to within 100 millionths of an inch. If that measurement were represented by a dime, one inch would be 400 times as high as the Empire State Building.
